Railroad Conductor Is Killed In Most Unusual Accident

STORM DAMAGE HEAVY

CONDUCTOR'S GLOVE CATCHES ON MOVING TRAIN; DRAWS HIM UNDER CAR WHEELS

Edward T. Irwin, 50; Dies As Result Of Accident Last Night

Train Moving Slowly At Time Of Mishap—Unusual Railroad Accident

Edward T. Irwin, 50, of 302 West Cherry street, conductor in the local yards of the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh railroad, died in the New Castle hospital about midnight last night, as a result of a peculiar accident near a switch in the Cherry street yards earlier in the evening.

Investigation by Coroner J. P. Caldwell showed that Irwin was one of a train crew engaged in switching cars. P. L. Hogan was conductor, L .E. Burleson, engineer, N. R. Heberling, fireman, and Irwin and Thomas J. Jenkins, trainmen.

Drawn Under Train

Mr. Irwin was walking alongside one of the tracks on which the train on which he was working was moving at about 6 or 7 miles an hour. He was wearing a pair of gloves, and in some way he swung his hand against the moving train. His gloves caught on something and in an instant he was pulled under the wheels.

Fireman N. L. Heberling saw him jerked off his feet, and fall, while Conductor P. L. Hogan, saw him just as the wheels caught him. Mr. Irwin's right leg was completely sev-

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Pa Newc will hazard a guess that there were few New Castle people that were not aroused from their sleep this morning, by the terrific wind and rain storm that struck the city.

Tomorrow is the annual Battery B reunion event at Mt. Jackson. Scores of friends and descendants of the members of the famous battery will gather in the village for the observance.

Highland avenue was rather lined with limbs of trees that had blown off during the storm of the night, early this morning.

Extension of the Pennsy Shops in this city, as announced last night, is an important step industrially for this city. The shops in normal times in the future will be twice as large as heretofore, due to the shifting of Erie shopmen to the local plant.

Flower gardens were hard hit by the hail and windstorm of this morning. Holly Hocks, delphinium and other plants that stand high, were levelled to the ground in many instances, and other flowers suffered large damage.

Last night was anything but a pleasant one for sleep, until after the storm. The lowest temperature of the night was 66 degrees, and it must have been around 80 before the storm hit.

Just before the terrific storm broke last evening, an airplane, evidently one of the mail planes on the Cleveland-New York route could be heard winging its way in a southerly direction over the city. The pilot was evidently beating away from the storm. A few minutes later, one of the most terrific storms which has ever visited the city broke in all its fury.

Electric power was off for some time during the storm last night, and residents who got up to close windows, had to work in the dark.

Announcement that Governor Pinchot had vetoed the bill providing for a county controller in Lawrence county, put an abrupt end to one

French Deputies Hear Reply Upon Hoover Proposal

Warning Is Issued By Premier Laval On Moratorium Plan

INDICATE GENERAL ACCEPTANCE OF PLAN

French Attitude Collides Sharply With Ideas Of President Hoover

By FREDERIC K. ABBOTT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PARIS, June 26.—A warning that suspension of unconditional reparations payments from Germany might undermine the validity of the Young plan was sounded by Premier Pierre Laval today in reading to the Chamber of Deputies the French government's official reply to President Hoover's war debt proposal.

The reply revealed that the cabinet has decided to leave the entire matter in the hands of the French Parliament "whose decision will be final".

Parliament to Act

"The government is ready to ask Parliament, whose decision will be final, to accept a moratorium on debts and reparations," the premier said.

"There is great danger of shaking confidence in the value of signatures to the young plan if the suspension affects unconditional payments."

Danish Fliers Arrive At Goal In Copenhagen

DANISH AIRMAN IS GREETED BY MOTHER

Adventurous Pair Are Mobbed As They Step From Plane After Hop From Bremen

(International News Service)

COPENHAGEN, June 26.—Greeted by countless thousands delirious with joy, Otto Hillig, Liberty, N. Y., photographer, and Holger Hoiriis, Danish pilot brought their monoplane "Liberty" down on the Kastrup Airport here today, ending a trans-Atlantic flight that began at Harbor Grace, Newfoundland, early Wednesday.

The adventurous pair, who characterized their flight as that of "a couple of immigrants returning home," arrived at 2:06 p. m. (9.06 a. m., E. D. T.) from Bremen, Germany, where they spent the night. They landed at the German city last evening, utterly exhausted, after wandering lost for hours over the map of Europe.

The trans-Atlantic flight itself ended at Krefeld, Germany, yesterday afternoon, but anxious to reach Copenhagen in the quickest possible time, the airmen took off again after an hour's rest.

Spent Night In Bremen

Remaining awake at the controls only with the greatest difficulty, Hoiriis managed to take the plane as far north as Bremen, but found it impossible to continue on to Copenhagen without a night's sleep.

Despite the long delay, the people of Copenhagen lost none of their enthusiasm over the daring venture of the 55-year-old photographer

Youth Killed By Lightning

Philip G. Dovaluk, 14, High School Honor Student Killed Pitching Hay

FATHER STUNNED, BUT IS UNHURT

(International News Service)

DOYESTOWN, Pa., June 26.—Philip G. Dovaluk, 14-year old honor student of the Doylestown high school, was killed instantly today when struck by a bolt of lightning while turning hay on a farm in Warrenton township, three miles south of here.

The youth was aiding his father and mother when he was struck down. The father, although stunned by the shock, picked up the boy and carried him into the house summoning Constable Frank Nidgrah, a neighbor. The latter called Coroner Dr. John J. Sweeney, of Doylestown, who pronounced the boy dead.

GLOBE CIRCLING FLIERS ENROUTE OVER SIBERIA

By EDWARD L. DEUSS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

MOSCOW, June 26.—Wiley Post and Harold Gatty, globe-circling airmen, today were hurtling over monotonous Siberian steppes todwards Novosibirsk in their white-winged monoplane Winnie Mae. They left Moscow for Novosibirsk, 1800 miles away, at 5 a. m. today and said they would reach that city in about 12 hours.

Post, the one-eyed Oklahoma pilot, and his Los Angeles navigator were well up with their schedule for a ten-day aerial circumnavigation of the globe, having completed on arriving in Moscow one-third of their projected journey in a little more than two days.

Before leaving the October airdrome, the demon tourists said that they would stop at Novosibirsk only a half hour for refuelling before soaring on to Irkutsk, near the border of outer Mongolia, 2,600 miles from Moscow.

Keeps Son Reluctantly

Police Change Mother's Mind

Only a threat of prosecution for child abandonment, a felony, induced Mrs. Marie Timmons of Hammond, Ind., to take back her five-year-old son Howard after she had disowned him. The child's roving tendencies caused the mother to leave him at the Hammond police station, then she defied police to make her take the boy back. Now she wants someone to adopt Howard. "I don't want to go home because they don't want me," the child told police. Mrs. Timmons is shown, upon agreeing to police requests, telling her son she and his step-father would take him back.

STIFLING HEAT WAVE GRIPPING MID-WEST

(International News Service)

Scorching heat parched the western half of the country today as temperatures mounted to the 100 mark or above, leaving scores of heat prostrations, deaths and drownings in its wake.

While the eastern seaboard enjoyed comparatively cool weather, the middle west, the mountain regions and even the Pacific coast suffered from the extreme heat.

Deaths due to the heat continued to mount today. Six were reported in the Chicago area within the last 24 hours, two in Indiana, one each in California, Danville, Ill., Detroit, Toledo and St. Louis. In Michigan ten persons were drowned. Chicago reported six drownings. One was recorded in Indiana and another in St. Louis. One died in Booneville, Mo., and another at Olathe, Kan. One death occurred in Pittsburgh.

St. Louis, where the thermometer soared to 100 yesterday, faced even hotter weather today. At an early hour 93 was recorded and 102 was expected to be reached before late this afternoon.

Throughout Iowa temperatures were above the 100 mark. Waterloo reported 104, Lamont 103, Dubuque 102, Cedar Rapids 102, Iowa Falls 101, Marshalltown 101 and Davenport, Sioux City and Council Bluffs 100.

As the western half of the country sweltered today in torrid weather that sent temperatures to 100 or above, 44 deaths were attributed to the heat throughout the country.

Deaths due to heat prostrations, according to International News Service reports, were distributed as follows: Illinois 7, Missouri 4, Indiana 3, Ohio 3 and one each at Olathe, Kan., California, Toledo and Philadelphia. Drownings were reported as follows:

Michigan 10, Chicago 6, St. Louis 3 and Indiana 1.

Bion Cover Granted Leave Of Absence

Will Be Off Duty As Assessor From July 1 Until September 15

Council today met in city hall and upon request of Assessor B. W. Cover, granted him a leave of absence, without pay from July 15 to September 15. He will also be off duty between July 1 and July 15 for a vacation on pay. He has made all personal assessments excepting in the First and Second ward, he reported to council. They will be completed probably by an assistant whom will be put on the payroll.

Steel Storage Tank Fired By Lightning Near Butler —Many Homes Struck

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, June 26.—Thousands of Pittsburghers were late for work today because of the demoralized street car schedule caused by tons of mud covering the tracks in many places as deep as three or four feet following an early morning torrential rain.

Mrs. Bessie Sullivan, 44, died during the height of the storm from cerebral hemorrhage. Physicians said the stroke was induced by fright.

Damage In Thousands

Accompanied by a severe electrical display, the rainstorm wrought thousands of dollars damage to Pittsburgh and suburbs. As the rain came down in torrents, it washed away huge sections of hillsides and deposited the earth in streets below.

An oil well was struck by lightning in McNight road near Laurel Gardens, and at once caught fire. Streets were littered with trees blown down.

Will Break Up Gangs Of Loafers

Chief Horner To War On Street Corner Gangs Who Cause Annoyance

Chief of Police C. C. Horner stated this morning that the practice of gangs loafing about the entrances to pool rooms and buildings in the business section of the city is to be broken up.

Considerable complaint has been made to the police about gangs who loaf around stores and the entrances to pool rooms, insulting women and blocking the sidewalks.

Since the weather has become warmer the practice has become more noticeable and in some localities conditions have become almost unbearable.

"Trader Horn" Is Called By Death In English Home

Alfred Aloysius Horn World Famous As "Trader Horn" Dies Of Pneumonia

SPENT MANY YEARS IN SOUTH AFRICA

White-Haired Adventurer Recently Spent Three Months In United States

(International News Service)

LONDON, June 26.—Alfred Aloysius Horn, world famous as "Trader Horn," died at 4:55 a. m. today at his home in Whitstable. He was stricken with pneumonia two weeks ago and for the past few days doctors had held out no hope for his recovery. He was 80 years old.

Trader Horn spent practically his whole life in obscurity in Africa.

But he struck gold when he met Mrs. Ethelberta Lewis, an English novelist, in South Africa several years ago. Mrs. Lewis was fascinated by the adventures of the white-headed old man who had visited enough out-of-the-way places to make the fortune of many an explorer. He related his travels with a naive philosophy and in a homely idiom that Mrs. Lewis seized upon at once as intrisically literary.

She collaborated with the old man in writing "Trader Horn." The book became a best seller both throughout the British Empire and in America. It was adapted for the movies and Trader Horn died in comfortable circumstances.

Horn moved to Whitstable from South Africa after a lecture tour around the world. He spent three months in the United States.

Patrolman Ritty Resigns Position

Injuries of a permanent nature, sustained while doing his duty caused Policeman M. J. Ritty today to resign, effective July 1. He will be paid 436 weeks compensation at a sum of $15 each week. He has received the balance of the 500 weeks compensation to which he was entitled.

Ritty has served a long time as a policeman and was greatly respected. He was known to everyone and performed his duty as it laid before him.

SWITCH IN ROTARY HEADS ON MONDAY

President T. W. McCullough of the city's Rotary Club will retire from the office at the close of the customary weekly luncheon of the members in The Castleton next Monday at noon.

President-elect Louis B. Round will officially take over the gavel as McCullough's term ends.

TERRIFIC WIND STORM HERE IN EARLY MORNING OCCASIONS BIG DAMAGE

Trees Blown Down, Crops Damaged; Lightning Hits Several Places

Telephone And Electric Light Lines Suffer Extensive Damage

One of the most terrific storms which has visited the district in years, swept over the city about 3 o'clock this morning, the storm being accompanied by a high wind from the northeast which at times reached the velocity of a hurricane, uprooting trees, tearing limbs from many, while lightning struck in a number of places.

Both the telephone and electric light companies were hard hit by the storm, the companies reporting the worst storm damage in years to their systems.

Many Phones Out

The New Castle-Erie telephone cable system was put out of commission, when a large tree blew across the line on the Wilmington road near Squire A. H. Gilmore's home, cutting off 35 toll circuits.

In addition, 280 lines in the city were cut through various causes, affecting 600 patrons. In some cases, lightning got onto wires and burned out the terminals, while in other instances the lines were broken off by falling trees or limbs of trees.

Linemen were put to work early this morning, repairing the damage. District Manager W. R. Bingham

PITTSBURGH, June 26—Two persons were hurled from their beds, and the lives of four others were endangered early today when the home of Victor Garzany, secretary of the United Mine Workers, at Coverdale was bombed.

Following the blast, the bombers exchanged shots with Frank Metz, neighbor of Garzany, and though a shot was fired into a crowd of people sitting on Metz's front porch, no one was injured, police said.

Man Arrested.

Joe Delina, also of Coverdale, was arrested by state police for questioning in connection with the bombing. Police said he had a slight body injury, but they declared that he had not been shot.

The bomb was set off in the rear of the house just after Mr. and Mrs. George Herby, Jr., and Garzany and his two children Richard 5, and Betty, 3, had retired for the night.

Carver Hotel In Sharon Damaged

One Of Oldest Hotel In Western Pennsylvania Is Swept By Flames

(International News Service)

SHARON, Pa., June 26.—Fire swept the Carver Hotel, one of the oldest in Western Pennsylvania, here today, and damaged the structure to the extent of $10,000 before it was extinguished. The flames, starting in the laundry on the third floor of the building, spread swiftly and for a time it was feared the entire structure would be destroyed.

Firemen finally succeeded in getting the fames under control but only after considerable loss resulted from fire, smoke and water.

Set September As Month For Trial Of Kline-Succop

Mayor Kline Of Pittsburgh And Supplies Director Held By Grand Jury

MAY MAKE MOVE TO QUASH CHARGES

Grand Jury Continues Probe Of Irregularities Of Officials

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, June 26.—Mayor Charles H. Kline and his deposed Director of Supplies, Bertram L. Succop, will be called for trial in September, it was announced at the district attorneys office today, as the grand jury resumed its probe of city purchases.

These developments and possibilities loomed as the inquisitorial body stated on a further probe of supply bureau affairs:

(1) Summoning of 30 new witnesses, including bank officials and others and perhaps interrogating at least 50 before the probe comes to an end.

(2) Probable posting of a $5,000 bond today or tomorrow by both Mayor Kline and Succop which must be given in person at the office of District Attorney Andrew T. Park.

(3) Reports that Mayor Kline and Succop when called before the court for trial will probably ask that indictments brought against them be quashed, legal minds who drew the indictments, having this probable move in mind when they were drawn.

(4) An investigation to ascertain if anyone profited illegally by the letting of city contracts and if any city or county employes benefited by such actions.

Many Witnesses

As the grand jury started to get under way, indications were that among the witnesses to be called would be officials of the L. H. Parke Co., whose capture of high bid contracts, resulted in the probe, together with persons identified with the A. L. Brahm Co., which obtained numerous meat contracts from the city.

On account of the strenuous work which District Attorney Park, his first assistant George F. P. Langfitt and Attorney Earl F. Reed, an assistant and special prosecutor, have done, the grand jury session will be short today.

It is expected that the counsel as named above, together with other assistants of the district attorneys office will prosecute the Mayor and Succop for the state.

In the three indictments returned misdemeanors as to malfeasance and misfeasance in office are charged. Malfeasance relates to charges involving the accused of improperly performing his duties.

Misfeasance applies to accused persons failing to do their duty.

rather lovely campaign for office in the county. There were a number of active candidates seeking appointment to the new office.

In these days of traffic hazards it seems to Pa Newc that hedges should be eliminated on street corners where there is an unusually large amount of traffic. Especially should the height of hedges be limited.

Evidence accumulates that the intersection of Moody and Mercer streets is one of the most dangerous traffic intersections of the city. There should be a traffic light at this corner, many motorists are agreed. It was suggested months ago and it was believed that a light was to be erected, but the plan has never been carried out.

Thomas Boston of Park avenue, is possessor of a $3 bill, which was issued July 1, 1859 by the Hancock Bank. It is signed by the president of the bank, J. M. Thompson. Mr. Boston came across this old bank note tucked away in an old ledger he was planning on destroying.

A timely suggestion and one deserving of attention came to Pa Newc from a local resident today. He would have the city construct a sidewalk on the southern side of the Croton avenue hill, instead of repairing the present one on the opposite side. Pedestrains, he said, walking toward the hill on the right side walk are endangered by speeding automobiles when they cross the street at the Pennsy crossing.

A Department of Commerce truck was noticed by Pa Newc Thursday afternoon on the Harlansburg road. It had a U. S. license plate No. 13-93 and on the side of the truck was a sign saying "Airways Division.'

Pa Newc was told Thursday afternoon by a gentleman living near Harrisville, that his grandfather used to drive a stage coach over the road from that place toward Slippery Rock.

Some of the treelets planted along the Harlansburg to Slippery Rock road have died, one of the Newcs notices. However, most of the trees are coming along fine. They were planted by the state last year.

Have you noticed the splendid boxes of flowers on the North Street bridge? They are lovely.

An angora cat belonging to a local family fell from a window of a third story building the other day. It landed on it's feet and was apparently not very badly hurt. The owners thought it was advisable to shoot it.

The train crew rendered first aid by binding up the severed leg as best they could in an effort to stop the flow of blood. As soon as an ambulance could be procured Irwin was taken to the New Castle hospital. He was very weak from loss of blood and shock, and died about midnight.

Well Known Railroader

Mr. Irwin was one of the best known railroad men of the seventh ward. He went to work for the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh Company between 11 and 12 years ago. He had served in various capacities while in the employ of the company, and was found to be a dependable man in whatever position he was working.

So far as known he had never suffered a serious accident before. Just how his glove came in contact with the car is not known. He may have slipped, and thrown his hand out to catch himself, or he may have been walking so close to the cars, that in swinging his hand it was caught.

Mr. Irwin was a widower. He is survived by his mother and one brother, Clarence, who reside at Grove City, Pa. Mr. Irwin was a native of Mercer county, having lived there the greater part of his life before coming to New Castle.

He was a member of Amazon lodge K. of P. No. 336, and also a member of the Order of Railroad Conductors.

Funeral services will be held at the Mahoning funeral home, seventh ward, on Saturday evening at 7:30 slow time, or 8:30 fast time, after which the remains will be taken to Grove City where a service will be held on Sunday morning. Interment will be at Springfield cemetery, near Grove City.

and his young pilot. After spending all day yesterday at the airport only to trek sorrowfully homeward at evening when hope was virtually abandoned, thousands returned to the field today to accord a fitting reception to the first men ever to choose Copenhagen as the goal of a trans-Atlantic flight.

Touching scenes were enacted when Hillig and Hoiriis stepped out of their plane two hours and 28 minutes after taking off from Bremen.

Mother Greets Son

Hoiriis was greeted by his white haired mother, weeping for sheer joy. Hillig was embraced by his brother, who with other relatives had stood almost ceaseless vigil ever since the flight began.

Hoiriis also was greeted by his sister, who was equally overcome by emotion. The young flier had not seen either his mother or his sister since he left Denmark as an emigrant to the United States seven years ago.

Thousands of persons broke through the temporary barriers erected by police and swarmed toward the plane as it landed. The official reception committee appointed by Premier Stauning was "snowed under" by the mobs battling for a glimpse of the airmen.

A score of Danish naval, military and civil airplanes met the filers off the coast and escorted them the last few miles to the aerodrome.

When the official reception committee was able to overcome the excitement of the mob and go into action, they presented Hillig and Hoiriis with the gold medal of the Danish Aeronautical Society.

Garlanded with laurel wreaths, the airmen then were driven in flower banked automobiles through streets lined with cheering crowds to the Copenhagen town hall, where an official reception was accorded them.

The property is located at 216-218 South Croton avenue, and is occupied by the Italio Produce Company. Sale is being made in order that some debts may be cleared up, and the price offered is the best that could be obtained. An order was made by Judge Hildebrand.

DOG RUNS MILES THRU RAINSTORM TO FIND MASTER

Seeking protection from his master during this morning's heavy thunderstorm, "Johnteel," the white collie dog of Carl E. Paisley, Park avenue, dashed five miles through the wind and rain to New Castle from an East Brook farm where he had been taken for the summer.

Last night the dog was at the Ben Nessle farm, but today he was found on guard in front of the door at Paisley's store.

Evidence that "Johnteel" wasn't for making up with new friends today was attested by the fact that this morning's newspaper, usually tucked into the handle of the door, was found along the sidewalk. "Johnteel" was for protecting the door.

Home Is Struck

Lightning struck a three-story brick apartment house in Dormont, but damage was slight. All street cars from the East End and North Side were rerouted because tracks between those sections and downtown were covered with mud.

Accustomed to small landslides, the city has mobile steam shovels for such emergencies. These were put to work at once but their task was so great that traffic cannot be expected to be restored to normal much before tomorrow.

The downpour brought little relief from the intense heat. The sky was cloudless at dawn, and a scorching sun beat down upon the city a few hours later.

Storage Tank Struck

BUTLER, Pa., June 26.— Nine thousand barrels of crude oil were ignited early today when lightning struck the steel storage tank of the National Transit Company, south of here. The tank exploded and its wooden roof sailed 200 feet in the air.

Blazing oil spread over three acres of farm land, and for a short time threatened buildings on the farm of Charles Bickle. Volunteer firemen poured buckets of water on the building roofs and their efforts soon were augmented by a downpour of rain.

Valencia volunteer firemen stood by to prevent the flames from spreading. Firemen were helpless to extinguish the burning oil, which they said probably would burn all day.

The fire occurred near Nixon, Pa.

"Solution of the German crisis will not be found merely in reduction of the German budget, but also in extension of credit," he said.

M. Laval's statement was greeted with mild applause from the right and center. The left remained silent.

Immediately after the reading was concluded, the chamber recessed.

WASHINGTON, June 26.—France's determination not to permit Germany to get out of the habit of raising her reparations annuities collided sharply today with President Hoover's proposal for a year's holiday from all vexing inter-governmental war debts.

"The French government considers there is a moral interest of the first order in not postponing in any way payment of the unconditional annuity ($110,000,000), even during the period contemplated by President Hoover," said France's official reply, made public here.

Instead, France proposed that Germany go ahead and raise the money, depositing it in the international settlements bank as a sort of measure of good faith, and perhaps to be doled back as credit.

"There are suggestions in the method proposed by the French," announced Secretary of State Stimson immediately, "That do not accomplish the full measure of relief corresponding to the president's plan and must, therefore, be subject to further discussion."

There the situation rested today—the French have rejected the Hoover plan and counter-proposed another which is unsatisfactory to Washington.

Secretary of the Treasury Mellon is engaged in negotiations with the French in Paris, and if his efforts are not successful at some sort of compromise he will be reinforced by Secretary of State Stimson, who is sailing tomorrow.

Stimson expressed his usual optimism of a favorable outcome after perusing the French note. It was obvious, however, that there is a hitch—and a very real one—which will require some delicate negotiating and face-saving all around.

Have Clue To Jewel Thieves

Two Men Are Seen Emptying Cases In Mill Creek Park, Youngstown Thursday

According to information received from the Youngstown police, the jewel cases which were stolen from the locked car of Carl Levine, 308 Clark Building, Pittsburgh early Thursday afternoon were found in Mill Creek park there yesterday afternoon.

The Youngstown police were told that two men, each about five feet eleven inches in height, weighing between 180 and 190 pounds were seem emptying the cases. They were in a Ford coach, dark colored body, bearing a Pennsylvania license, but the number was not secured.

This happened about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Levine was notified by New Castle police of the report and promised to come here at once, but early this afternoon had not shown up yet.

It is claimed that the jewelry which consisted of diamond pendants, platinum ring, settings and various jewelry of this type, together with a number of watch cases, constituted the loot. The value was placed at around $3,000 by Mr. Levine.

WOMAN VOTER 61 YEAR

DENVER, June 26.—Denver's recent municipal election brought home to voters here the fact that woman suffrage has been in vogue in the Rocky Mountain region for a long long time. Mrs. Martha Drake, who voted here, revealed that she has been a voter for 61 years, having cast her first vote in Wyoming in 1870 when that state, then a territory, first adopted woman suffrage. She has voted consistently since that time.

"F" Property And Equipment Pleases Visiting Officers

Maj. Wolfe, Capt. Shelton On Informal Visit To Local National Guard

Highly elated over the condition of Troop F property and equipment, Maj. Samuel B. Wolfe, commander of the second squadron, 103rd Cavalry, Pennsylvania National Guard, and Capt. James E. Shelton, U. S. Cavalry instructor for the regiment, left this city last night, after praising the local guardsmen and their officers.

The visiting officers were guests at an informal dinner Thursday in the Elks home at which troop officers and members of the civilian committee were present.

Following the dinner the officers were escorted to the west side drill field where 56 members of the troop were assembled in regulation summer uniforms of the National Guard. The officers saw 14 guardsmen qualify in the saber exercises.

Fighters Are Put Under Arrest

Jack Varley and John Hogue, who were staging an impromptu fistic exhibition at the intersection of Mill and Washington street at 5:10 last evening, were placed under arrest by Officer Hanna and given a hearing before the mayor this morning, where they were assessed a fine and costs?

The two men were fighting furiously when Officer Hanna arrived on the scene and placed them under arrest.

Daylight was invented so that people in night clubs would know when it's time to go home.

BOMBERS WRECK HOME OF UNION MINE OFFICIAL

the union secretary, was sitting on the Metz porch at the time with Mr. and Mrs. Metz and other neighbors. She said she did not think her home had been bombed, and declared:

Thought It Was Bridge.

"When I heard the explosion I said to Mrs. Metz that the bridge had probably been blown up. Threats had been made that the railroad bridge behind our house would be wrecked, and that's what I thought it was.

"But Mrs. Metz said she saw smoke in my house, and when Mr. and Mrs. Herby jumped out of their window, I ran over and found that my kitchen was full of broken glass. Then I looked out and saw the porch."

Metz said that after the blast, while the crowd on his porch were wondering what happened, a shot was fired. He said he fired twice into the air in the hope of frightening the bombers away.

Garzany said he had returned to work yesterday because of the agreement between the United Mine Workers and the Company.

FORMAL RECEPTION HONORS JOHNSONS

A delightful event and one of outstanding social interest took place Thursday evening, June 25 at the New Castle Field Club house when Mrs. Charles H. Johnson gave a formal reception in honor of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Johnson, who were wed in the fall.

In addition to the hostess, Mrs. Johnson, and honor guests, Mr. and Mrs. George Johnson in the receiving line, were the former's house guests, Mrs. Mather Smith of Chicago, Ill., Oakland, Fla., and Columbia, Tenn., Mr. and Mrs. Milan Pratt of Rochester, N. Y., and Kilarney, Fla., Mr. and Mrs. Pratt's nieces, the Misses Elizabeth and Bernadina Strong, of Perry, N. Y., and Miss Mary Norman Hopkins of Gadsden, Ala.

The reception lasted from 8 o'clock to 10 o'clock, when dainty refreshments were served to relays of sixty. Mrs. Charles Johnson Jr. and her aides were in charge of the dining room. A most unique arrangement which was "home-like" to the guests was carried out, adding much to the pleasure of the occasion. The table was indeed very beautiful with its centerpiece of select pink roses and Delphinium in a silver container, and to complete this arrengement blue slender tapers in silver candelabras were placed at either end, making a striking setting for the handsome silver service used.

From 10 o'clock until a late hour, dancing was in vogue to a splendid program of music in the spacious club ball room.

The guest list numbering well over founr-hundred, included school and personal friends of the couple, as well as friends of the family. Many were present from Butler, Mrs. Johnson's home city, and approximately a hundred different other nearby and distant places.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson will sail from New York on July 11th to Frisco where they will visit the former's brother, Dr. Phillips Johnson. They will go via Panama Canal.

CHAPTER 333 O. E. S. PICNIC FINE SUCCESS

Shenango Chapter No. 333 Order of the Eastern Star, Mrs. George Weddell, Worthy Matron, recorded one of the most successful events on their years calendar at the close of Thursday evening, when they gathered with their husbands, families and friends at Cascade Park for their annual tureen-dinner outing. Approximately two-hundred and fifty partook of the delicious menu served in the grove at 6:30 o'clock at the large tables which were cleverly decorated in keeping with the season, for this occasion.

At the conclusion of serving, all went to the Fun House where a few hours of real merrimaking were enjoyed. Other amusements and dancing whiled away the balance of the evening.

The committee in charge and whom are due the credilt for the complete success of the affair, includes Mrs. Oliver J. Shannon general chairlady, Mrs. Katherine McGee, Mrs. Eva Waddlinger, Mrs. Sara Frew, Mrs. Dorothy Clark, Mrs. Ceil Young, Mrs. May Brinton, Mrs. Earl Moffatt, Miss Anna Offutt, Mrs. Mildred Hillman, Mrs. Myrtle Hutchinson, Mrs. Olive Taylor, Mrs. Maurice Boyd, Mrs. A. M. Stump, Mrs. Harper Montgomery, Mrs. Klee, and Mrs. Carrie Klingensmith.

BRIDE-ELECT IS GUEST OF HONOR

Honoring Miss Lucille McConaghy, a bride-elect of the month, Mrs. John B. Lewis, of Woodrow Court, Sharon, entertained at a beautifully appointed one o'clock luncheon in her home Thursday afternoon. A very delicious menu was served at a table decorated in an array of pastel hues, and later, the hours were spent informally.

Miss McConaghy was the recipient of a lovely gift from the hostess.

Issued License.

John Rohrabacker of Wilkes-Barre, and Elizabeth McHart of New Castle, were issued a marriage license, according to announcement made by the Scranton paper.

DINNER IN HONOR OF MRS. COCHRAN

Mrs. Harriet Cochran of Los Angeles, Cal., former superintendent of the Shenango Valley hospital, was entertained by a group of graduate nurses of the classes between 1901 and 1911, Thursday evening, at the home of Miss Jeannette Pattison, Youngstown road.

It was one of the most perfect reunions ever held by the nurses of those classes. Former graduates from Waterford, Sharon, Erie, Wellsville, Pittsburgh, Youngstown, New Wilmington and New Castle were present at this dinner held in honor of their superintendent.

It has been 22 years since Mrs. Cochran left the local hospital, but the original spirit of the classes was present last night and the evening most enjoyably sailed by with chat and reminiscences.

At 6 o'clock dinner was served on the beautiful front lawn of the Pattison home. A very delicious menu was served and the tables were attractively decorated in color tones of red and white. Individual bouquets were pretty favors at each place.

Places were set for Flora Phelps Gillett, Waterford; Ruth McClure, New Castle; Anna Jackson Crowell, Sharon; Nellie Hicks Schmidt, Erie; Minnie Frank Smith, Erie; Anna M. Stevenson, Erie; Minnie Brogdon Peck, Erie; Jennie Perry Calhoun Wellsville; Lura Waldon Frazier Pittsburgh; Hilda Johnston Kelley Youngstown; Pearl Zehner, New Castle; Jeannette Pattison, New Castle; Bertha Uber Smith, New Castle; Emma J. Dodds, New Wilmington; Della Glenn, New Castle; Louise Chamberlain Isaacs, New Castle, and Elizabeth Gilliland Moore, New Castle.

Special guests of the evening were Miss Lottie B. Nicklin of New Castle and Miss Clara McCready of New Wilmington.

Mrs. Cochran is engaged in work as superintendent of the public health work in the schools of Los Angeles. She also teaches "public health" in the University of California.

She will leave New Castle July 2 for Montreal, Canada, where she will embark on a liner leaving for Europe July 3. She plans to make a two-month tour of Europe and return to Los Angeles in time for the opening of school in September.

Picnic Dinner

The King's Daughters of the First Methodist church assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Ayers, North Mercer street, Thursday evening for a picnic supper, which was served on the lawn with covers arranged for 60 and the tables adding beauty to the setting, with their baskets of flowers in all the summer shades.

The after dinner hours were spent in games and the group was entertained by the readings of little Katherine Wilcox, a six year old reader on great ability.

Mrs. S. W. Bower, a former resident of this city, who is now visiting Mrs. T. A. Patterson, Highland avenue, was a special guest.

DINNER EVENT HONORS COUPLE

Honoring Mr. and Mrs. H. Melvin Black, a bride and groom of recent date, several employees of the court house entertained at a chicken dinner Thursday evening in The Colonial. The tables, prettily decorated in tones of pink and white for the occasion, were arranged in the private dining room, where a delicious menu was served. During this time pep singing, led by Miss Ardys Ryhal, was in progress, and later Charles F. Ball, assistant county superintendent of schools, who acted as toastmaster, introduced the following speakers, who made remarks: Sheriff Frank N. Johnson, County Commissioner T. J. McClullough, County Auditor W. J. Eroe and County Poor Director M. B. Hogue.

At an appropriate time W. A. Eakin at the conclusion of making a speech presented Mrs. Black with a beautiful chest of silver in behalf of T. J. McCullough, P. O. Elder, C. C. Boyd, Charles F. Ball and himself.

An entertaining program was brought to a close by the singing of a selected song, with all joining in.

STUDENTS TAKE PART IN CONCERT

A large number of relatives and friends were present at the violin concert given Thursday evening in the parlors of the Highland United Presbyterian church when Mrs. Fred S. Emery presented her students in exceptionally fine program.

Those who took part included Clifford Bishop, William Down, Betty Lathrop, James Bechtol, Emery Back, James Bishop, Julia Lannowich, Betty Down, Lenora Emery, Thomas Greer, Walter Wallace, Martha Coulter, Nancy Richard, Kathryn Bittner, and Margaretta Hess.

Accompanists for the evening were the Misses Leta Mae John, and Lena Richards and Mrs. Thomas Greer.

Open Door Class

Members of the Open Door class of the Third United Presbyterian church motored to Stoughton Beach on Slippery Rock creek Thursday evening, where a picnic supper was enjoyed.

Mrs. Harold Brown, Mrs. Williard Tribby and Mrs. Merritt Reynolds most capably saw to it that a most delicious menu had been arranged and they had the tables attractively decorated in summer flowers when the thirty members and guests gathered around the festal board.

The after dinner hours were most enjoyable spent in the cool waters of the creek and in playing games.

Special guests included Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lundy, Mrs. Arthur Minick and from out of town: Mr. and Mrs. Howard Burdette and daughter, Phyllis of Sharpsville and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Shaffer of Beaver Falls.

July 9 will mark the date of the next regular meeting.

Class Has Party

The "Up and Doing" Class of the Central Presbyterian church met at the home of Dorothy Chambers Thursday evening with many games and music as the entertainment of the evening.

Prizes were won by Mary Elizabeth Jenkins and Louise Taylor.

At a late hour a dainty lunch was served by the hostess and her mother, Mrs. C. Chambers.

During the business session officers for the coming year were elected, with Dorothy Chambers, president; Nancy Halle, vice president; Mary Anna Ayers, secretary and Louise Taylor, secretary.

The girls planned their next meeting for Tuesday, June 30, which will be in the form of a tureen at Cascade Park.

Newlyweds Honored

A social event of interest was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Gilmore on Harrison street, Wednesday evening, when they entertained a gathering of twenty-eight relatives and close friends of Mr. and Mrs. Walter C. Gilmore, their son and daughter-in-law who were married on June 10.

The hours were spent informally, and at the conclusion of the evening, a delicious collation was served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. W. Howard Gilmore. Pink and white tones were carried out in the menu and table appointments.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gilmore were the recipients of a collection of many beautiful and servicable gifts for use in their new home.

E. L. M. S. Club

Mrs. Emma Boyles of East Brook was hostess to the E. L. M. S. club members in her home Thursday afternoon, when she entertained at 500. Prizes for honors were presented to Miss Della Flynn, Mrs. Laura McKnight and Mrs. Marie Stunkard at the close of the game. Preceding the business session, lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Miss Ina Patterson, who with Mrs. Stunkard, and Mrs. Mabel Sicafuse were special guests.

In two weeks Mrs. Elwilda Everhart of East Washington street will received the club.

MRS. JESSE B. PORTER HONORED AT LUNCHEON

As a courtesy to Mrs. Jesse B. Porter, wife of the pastor of Central Christian church, Mrs. John Baynham, Harding street, entertained most graciously at a luncheon Thursday at 1:30.

Summer flowers were placed most effectively about the rooms and the table was centered with a crystal basket holding pastel shaded flowers, with the same colors being carried out in the dainty appointments.

The afternoon hours were spent most informally in general conversation.

Places at luncheon were arranged for Mrs. J. B. Porter, Mrs. K. E. Smith, Mrs. Ella Cowmeadow, Mrs. Robert Thompson, Mrs. Allen Leslie, Mrs. Thomas Phelps, Mrs. Frank Norris, Mrs. Walter Gibson, Mrs. William Barber, Mrs. Sidney Zeigler and Mrs. Baynham.

SUPREME OFFICERS GUESTS AT DINNER

Celebrating the fifth anniversary of their organization, the members of the L. L. O. I. Lodge 129 entertained the supreme officers; Mrs. Mayme McClintock, supreme grand mistress, of Pittsburgh; Mrs. Mary McGaul, state grand mistress of Philadelphia; Mrs. Robert Callahan, supreme treasurer of Ellwood City and members of Lodge 24 at a birthday dinner Thursday evening in Clendenning Hall.

The tables were beautifully decorated in spring flowers and emblems of the lodge with a large birthday cake as the center piece and during the after dinner speaking, gifts were presented to Mrs. McClintock and Mrs. McGaul.

G. M. D. Club

The G. M. D. Club members motored to the home of Mrs. Carl Blatman at Leetonia, O., Thursday afternoon where they participated at a delicious 1 o'clock luncheon. Covers were laid for 19 guests at the prettily appointed tables, and following this feature cards were in play as the main divirsion. Mrs. Joe Campbell, Mrs. Joe Blue and Mrs. Wayne Sine were awarded the prizes for honors.

At 6 o'clock in the evening, the ladies enjoyed a lawn party. A sumptuous dinner was served at nicely arranged tables, and later, a game of croquet was in vogue. Mrs. George McConnell was given the prize in this contest.

In two weeks Mrs. Paul Lutz of Smith street, this city, will be club hostess.

Harmon-Nord Nuptials

Miss Ruth Harmon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Harmon of Hillsville became the bride of Bernard Nord, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Nord of Bessemer at a pretty wedding Thursday at 1:30 in the parsonage of the Hillsville Methodist church, with Rev. E. O. Minnigh, pastor of the church, officiating.

The bride was lovely in a chiffon gown of turquoise blue, wearing a picture hat of white and carrying a bouquet of roses and valley lillies. They were unattended and immediately following the ceremony they left by motor for Harrisburg and other eastern points, after their return they will reside at Poland, O.

Mrs. Nord was formerly employed as book-keeper for the Chambers Motor company and the groom is an employe of the Bessemer Cement company.

Iona Kensington

Mrs. L. H. Gormley, Euclid avenue, entertained members of the Iona Kensington in her home Thursday afternoon for the regular session.

Cards were the chief diversion of the afternoon and prizes for high score were awarded Mrs. Arthur Smith and Mrs. David Francis.

Beautiful summer flowers were used throughout the home and a color scheme of pink and white was carried out when the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Cora Duffner, served dainty refreshments.

Mrs. Alfred Smith, Fairmont avenue, will receive the club members on July 9.

Worthwhile Kensington

The Worthwhile Kensington members motored to a local Inn yesterday afternoon, where they enjoyed a picnic lunch. Later a program of outdoor sports were in progress, occupying the remainder of the social period.

During a short business session, plans were made for a breakfast to be held on Thursday, July 16, the place to be announced later.

Attend Institute

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. McCandless, Mrs. E. T. Beahm, Miss Margaret Walker and Mrs. J. B. McClaren of this city represented the Lawrence County Unions of the W. C. T. U. at the Institute held in Greenville Thursday afternoon and evening.

SOCIETY ENJOYS PICNIC OUTING

The Livingston Missionary society of the Central Christian church spent a delightful evening at Cascade Park Thursday, when eighteen members, and Mrs. Frank Smith, and Helen McBride of Youngstown, O., were special guests, gathered for a picnic outing. Dinner was served at 6:30 o'clock in the grove, at tables nicely appointed in the season's tones. Mrs. Harry Redman and Miss Ruth Strobel were in charge of the affair.

Following the feature, they enjoyed the park amusements, and dancing also was a pastime. All voted the affair a decided success.

Club Honors Members

Miss Mary Maciariella of South Mill street entertained the Ten Ivory Club members Thursday at Cascade Park. The hours were spent with cards, dancing and the park amusements. The club prize was given to Theresia Fazzone, and following the serving of lunch in the grove, the Misses Fazzone, Martha Aicone and Mrs. Joseph DeLillio were each given a beautiful gift in behalf of the club, as a reminder of their birthday anniversaries.

Miss Elvira Sorto was a special guest.

In three weeks, Mrs. DeLillo of E. Division street will entertain in her home.

L. A. B. Club

Members of the L. A. B. Club were delightfully entertained Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Howard McClymonds on Meyer avenue when they met in regular session. Fourteen were present, and the activities opened with a business session when plans for a breakfast at Cascade Park to be held on July 1st were completed.

Bingo was later enjoyed, with the favors being won by Mrs. I. A. Taylor and Mrs. Minnie Ellgass. After the serving of lunch by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Carl Smith, they adjourned. In two weeks Mrs. Taylor of Adams street will receive the club at her home.

O. N. T. Club

Miss Frances Hellstern, Raymond street, was hostess to the members of the O. N. T. Clib in her home Thursday evening.

Two tables of 500 were in play during the evening and prizes for high score were awarded Misses Peg Kane, and Mary Green, who was also a special guest.

Following play the hostess, assisted by her sister, Mrs. Conners, served a delicious lunch.

THE TWO YOUNG WORLD-GIRDLERS

BARRING accident, which is always possible in daring feats of aviation, the two young American flyers, Post and Gatty, who took off from Roosevelt Field in the gray dawn of Tuesday morning, bid fair to succeed in the task of girdling the world in ten days. They landed at Chester, England, sixteen hours after leaving Newfoundland; and, with a brief stop for refuelling, started off for Moscow, well ahead of the time they had set for themselves. They are now in Russia and it appears that they will keep up to their schedule.

After such a beginning the rest of the flight will be watched all over the world with the keenest interest. That the whole journey can be made as easily as the first stage of it seems hardly possible. But their expertness is beyond question. "They made a beautiful landing," says an officer at the Chester airdrome, "and they have a wonderful machine." It needed not the slightest repairs after its long voyage.

All America is following their daring trip and wishing for their success.

SUMMER IS BENEFICIAL

The calendar has just announced the birth of a new season.

Than this season, which through the centuries has been known as summer, there is none more welcome, none greeted with greater acclaim from young and old and none so abundantly endowed with gifts for humanity.

Let New Castle dedicate this new season to Health and Happiness. By its very nature this season above all was provided for mankind. It is the season for work and play but primarily for being out-of-doors. There is a driving energy that is to be absorbed from that summer sun that the world of toil may survive the rigors and labor of the other three seasons of the year.

Humanity might prefer that the season of summer should be one of surcease from all work and yet healthy men and women luxuriate in the streaming perspiration of hot-weather work. Perspiration is a concomitant of toil. Sometimes are not the watery beads on man's brow one of the rewards of honest toil?

It cannot be lost sight of that one of summer's principal attractions as it is the great American vacation season. The wealthy may winter, fall and spring in the South, California or abroad, but the poor and the comfortably financed take their proverbial "two-weeks" in the summer and in the summer only. Summer is their play time.

From now until fall young and old Americans will tour, hike, motor, swim, camp, boat, golf and enter into every sport known to us. From all this they will return to school, office, factory, store and kitchen in the fall with strong lungs, sturdy muscles, clear minds and unbounded energy.

While hot weather is reducing your weight it is increasing your physical endurance and strengthening your hold on life.

LET NEW YORK BE ITSELF

The New York Board of Trade has decided the throwing of ticker tape from windows is not a fitting expression of the joy of the metropolis over the arrival of a visiting celebrity. It thinks a "more suitable and dignified welcome" should be substituted.

Too late, probably. Dignified or not, a ticker tape shower is what visiting celebrities now expect when they ride up Broadway to the City Hall. It may not be the most dignified welcome, but it is a New York welcome, and that is what celebrities want. They can get suitable and dignified welcomes elsewhere—keys in silver boxes and parchment scrolls attesting they have received the freedom of the city. But only in New York can a distinguished traveler see his fame reflected in tons of torn-up paper thrown into the air by a populace which may have only the vaguest idea of the real nature of his contribution to humanity.

There is one thing New York does well; it has plenty of ticker tape and plenty of tall buildings from which to throw it. Why, then, should it abandon this typical expression for a form that does not express itself? New York can't be European. It can't even be American. It can only be New York. It is because it is New York that world celebrities like to land at the Battery and ride up Broadway. If New York ceases to give them ticker tape showers, we predict they will begin landing at Boston or Philadelphia.

PRACTICAL AID TO BLIND

The campaign being conducted through the country by the International Association of Lions Clubs to establish the white cane as a sign of the blind pedestrian gained momentum recently when the council committee on judiciary in Chicago was directed to prepare an ordinance limiting the use of white canes or walking sticks to blind pedestrians.

At the Lions International Convention in Toronto July 14-17, the Cook County Council of Lions Clubs in Illinois will present a motion to standardize the styles, size, and cost of the white canes which Lions Clubs furnish blind pedestrians.

Lions have now been successful in establishing the white cane as the sign of the blind pedestrian in Peoria, Ill., Rochester, N. Y., Saginaw, Mich., Wisconsin Rapids, Wis., Camden, N. J., Niles, Mich., Bloomfield, N. J., Duluth, Minn., and Galesburg, Illinois.

In these cities Lions have supplied blind persons with white canes and have established recognition of the canes as demanding "right of way" or "special consideration" by auto-drivers and pedestrians.

The movement is one entirely worth while.

Harvard men are taller and heavier than their fathers and grandfathers, which may or may not have had something to do with Princeton's breaking off football relations with the Crimson.

What Is This Common Sense?
It Is Mathematics or Faith?
Is It Truly Common?

By MARSHALL MASLIN

All my life, I've been hearing people say, in that snooty, impatient way that people have, "Why don't you use your Common Sense?"

All my life I've been hearing about Common Sense—all your life you've been hearing it, too.

But never in all my life have I heard a sunfast definition of Common Sense. I've looked in the dictionary, too, and I got but little satisfaction out of that. The men who make dictionaries don't know either. They say it is good, sound, ordinary intelligence, or "horse sense"—which is a compliment to the horse, I suppose, but not much help otherwise.

Oh, I know something about it. It's Common Sense that two plus two produces four. It's Common Sense to come in out of the rain—if you don't want to get wet. It's Common Sense to believe that time flies when you are happy and drags when you are sad. And, yet, I don't know.

My Common Sense tells me the typewriter before me is solid; but the masters of physics tell me it is a whirling, unstable mass of electrons. My Common Sense tells me I should eat what I like; those dietitians inform me that I should eat what I need, and what I need isn't always what I want. Common Sense told the people the world is flat; another kind of Common Sense told them it is round.

Sturdy Common Sense says to young people, "Work hard, be kind, keep your word, be good—and you'll be happy;" but some people who do these things don't seem happy. And some loafing, deplorable fellows are very charming characters.

I can't figure the thing out. Is Common Sense what people used to know, or what they know now, or what they will know a hundred years from now? Does it change like the styles or the models of airplanes? Is it earthly and selfish? Is it starlight and selfless?

Is Common Sense wisdom of children? Or is it disillusion? Doeos it come from the heart or from the head?

Have women more Common Sense than men? Has the plugging, play-safe fellow got Common Sense, or is it the property of winged genius? And if we knew what Common Sense is, would that knowledge make us happy or would it make us mad?

Does anybody know, can anybody tell me, what Common Sense really is?

LISTEN!

Do you ever try to get out of your particular class or business strata in order to learn something?

Are your efforts to meet prominent people prompted solely by the thought that you'd like to be able to say that you know them?

This satisfies your ego but that is all it means to you.

Conversation with those who have gone far and done things worthwhile should give you some valuable information.

If you are sufficiently intelligent to say things that cause a learned person to talk, you gain much of educational value.

Instead, don't you try to impress the learned one with your own knowledge of the subject in which he shines particularly.

What a waste of valuable time!

The reason some persons appear to have such accurate information on certain subjects is largely due to the fact that they never miss an opportunity to associate with those who possess worthwhile information.

They listen intently and talk little before educational authority.

GOLFER'S PRAYER

I do not ask for more than this:
That easy shots I may not miss.
Let champions take the sterner way,
I would be friendly as I play,
And only hope that I may be
Fit for good golfers' company;
Dependable in moments tense,
Taking the bad shot's consequence
Without excuses trite and lame,
Playing a fairly decent game.

Lord, as along the course I strive
I would not every man outdrive.
I ask but this: that shots of mine,
Though long or short, shall hold the line;
That Brown and Green and Jones and Smith
Shall know I must be reckoned with
As one who still will battle on
Until the chance to win is gone.
No better and no worse I'd be
Than those I choose for company.

And so with life, through good or ill,
My place with courage I would fill.
I'd play the friend till all is o'er,
Nor think too much about the score.
I would not sulk when hope seems faint.
I'd brave the worst without complaint.
When others look for help from me,
Dependable I'd like to be,
And have it said unto my fame
I played a fairly decent game.

Most of the "technical men" employed by great industrial organizations are foreign born. One explanation is that science courses in European universities are more comprehensive and thorough than American schools afford, and the other is that fewer and fewer Americans are willing to follow the long hard and under-paid grind that leads to exact scientific and mechanical knowledge. The average American youngster just out of school wants a white collar job. He is too proud to be a greasy mechanic in overalls. But our greatest men are mere mechanics. Ford and Edison were unschooled tinkerers. And dozens of our big manufacturing plants are operated by men who get their start by perfecting some useful contrivance—a gun or brake or bearing—while working for wages in overalls. This is a mechanical age and its big rewards are for mechanics. The boy who has a natural knack of doing things with tools may have the world for his oys'r if he also has brains and isn't afraid of work. Dear Fred: I found the following verses by Bryant in a booklet made by an artist friend as souvenir of a bicycle trip he and I made to the "Old Wayside Inn" made famous by Longfellow's poems "The Tales of the Wayside Inn." How that artistic little booklet sent memory flying back over the years: those young happy years, when with a pleasant companion by my side I explored the many interesting places around Boston. Other memories came of a personal nature as I looked through the time worn leaves each one containing a pen and ink sketch of some beauty spot along the way. An elm with spreading branches, an old rail fence with a robin singing on it, a snap shot of the old Inn, and a few of ourselves neatly pasted in. As I looked it through, I sighed and brushed away a tear: for I knew that a love of long ago had guided that artistic hand.

Indianapolis Speech Debated As Stand On Political Issues

President Hoover Receives Approval For His Optimism And Opposition To Governmental Interference But Indorsement Of Tariff Creates Conflicting Opinions

While it is denied that President Hoover's speech at Indianapolis was intended to have political significance, his statements nevertheless are discussed generally in their bearing on the issues that may be raised in the campaign of 1932. His optimism is noted in comments, and many agree that individual initiative must be maintained, but some hold that his tariff views are inconsistent with other principles enunciated before the Mid-West editors.

"When the history of this period is read," in the opinion of the OAKLAND TRIBUNE, (Ind. Rep.), "it is probable the Hoover Indianapolis speech will be regarded as the most significant of its documents." That paper sees "an executive determination upon a course of construction, one of sound thought and firm hand, delivering timely warning against easy adherence to the patent remedy, one who keeps his head while the demagogues shout their thousands of ideas."

"An epoch-marking utterance that will be studied with interest and profit far beyond the borders of this country" is recognized by the INDIANAPOLIS STAR, (Ind. Rep.) which declares: "The President does not intend to depart from the traditions of 150 years. He recognizes the function of the government to insure to our citizens unhampered and equal opportunity to prosper."

"The Hoover plan is an American plan. It will strike an answering chord in the breast of America," says the WASHINGTON STAR, (Ind.) with the further comment: "He urged that the government confine itself to the protection of the citizens in their own right of development, in opposition to the proposal that it go much farther and provide employment and the very means of livelihood for the citizen. Once the government undertakes such a plan, it becomes not the servant of the individual citizens, but their master."

"Mr. Hoover's appeal," as viewed by the CINCINNATI TIMES-STAR, (Rep.) "was for continued faith in a great system which has done more for human freedom than any other system in the history of mankind, and which, in spite of its occasional failures, has given and is giving Americans far more material prosperity than any other people has ever known." The FORT WAYNE NEWS-SENTINEL (Rep.) calls the speech "one of the ablest and most forthright expressions of diagnostic opinion ever delivered by an American President with respect to a problem of the first magnitude." The SAN JOSE MERCURY HERALD (Rep.) states: "He differs from the politicians in that he sees the campaign of economic science to make industry strong and steady enough to supply regularly human wants as analogous to the campaign of medical science to conquer disease, and physical science to conquer nature."

Declaring that "the President's summons to Americans to seize hold again upon the confidence which alone should be the normal condition of living in the country is as inspiring as it is sound," the FORT WORTH STAR-TELEGRAM (Ind. Dem.) offers the appraisal: "His analysis of the factors which enter into the existing business depression was a masterpiece of clarity; his estimate of the recovery possibilities of the nation a compelling summons." The PHILADELPHIA EVENING BULLETIN (Ind. Rep.) advises that "there ought to be a determined appeal, all along the line, for that plan which is truly American, which dates back to the foundation of the government, which has been tested and proved, the plan of individual opportunity and prosperity, under the helpful guidance of the government." The HARTFORD TIMES (Ind. Dem.) concludes that the address "was rich in its conviction of the dependableness of American resourcefulness and manhood in a season of trial"; that "it was eloquent and thoughtful, creditable to its author." The CHARLOTTE NEWS (Dem.) holds that "in making the declaration that the country will head some of these days into the greatest era of prosperity it has ever known, he is voicing sentiments that the American people will delight to hear, and there are some bases upon which he is within his rights in making such a prediction."

In opposition to the President's conclusions, the ATLANTA JOURNAL (Dem.) declares that "as an example of blowing hot and cold, Mr. Hoover's Indianapolis oration is a masterpiece." That paper also says: "In one breath he pleaded for the old American tradition of self-reliance and individual initiative, while in the next he sought to justify the Grundy tariff. Doles to the poor would be a curse, but subsidies to his own party's campaign contributors are as blessed as manna from heaven!" The FLINT DAILY JOURNAL (Ind.) concludes: "There is little more than a 'let alone' attitude to the present Hoover platform. It does not seem to be in the Hoover character to show a sportingly aggressive attitude toward the matters which come up for consideration of our future." Pointing to the difference between the Hoover plan and the upholding of "coercion exerted for moral purposes," the CHICAGO TRIBUNE (Rep.) asserts: "The government cannot regard the individual in one fashion as an infant and in another as an adult, and political compromises which endeavor to support such a dual doctrine of responsibility will and must fail."

"In standing with one foot on the doctrine of tariff subsidies and one foot on the doctrine of American individualism, he cuts, to put it mildly, an exceedingly awkward figure as a Colossus," in the judgment of the LOUISVILLE COURIER-JOURNAL (Ind.) The CHARLESTON (S. C.) EVENING POST (Ind. Dem.) contends that the President ought to "know that a prospect is not a plan," and as to the President's project for the future says: "What everybody would like to know is how it is to be put into actual practice. Let us see the blue prints, Mr. President." The ROANOKE TIMES (Ind. Dem.) states: "It will take more than words to convince the American people that Hoover has done all that could be done, and should be done, to pull the country out of the bog. His attempt to defend the tariff was as stupid as it was ill-advised." The DAYTON DAILY NEWS (Ind. Dem.) deplores the fact that "for the return of prosperity the country must await the play of the same forces whose unbridled play gave us the depression." The BIRMINGHAM NEWS (Dem.) sees in his attitude toward the tariff "gross inconsistency and woeful lack of real capacity as a leader."

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

ANTOINE'S IN NEW ORLEANS

The French Quarter in New Orleans is and has been from the beginning famous for its restaurants and of all these "Antoine's" is the greatest. It is there that the people of New Orleans gave their banquet in honor of Marechal du Foch upon the occasion of his visit to this country in 1921. It is of "Antoine's" that Thackeray wrote when he praised the "bouilla-baisse" of which he ate there. Irving Cobb, America's gastronomical artist writer afterwards said: Once upon a time, being seduced by certain poetic words of Thackeray, I made a special trip to a certain cafe in Paris to eat "bouilla-baisse. I found it distinctly worth while. Later I went to Marseilles, the home of the dish, and there ate it again and found it better. And then I came back to America and ate it at 'Antoine's' in New Orleans and found it best of all."

Those who have never eaten at "Antoine's" picture the place gorgeously decorated with all the colors of the rainbow; with gold, silver and bronze leaf plastered in the very recesses of the ceiling; with a select orchestra playing popular ragtime or evcerpts of the operatic masterpieces; with footmen in princely livery opening the carriage doors, and grooms to care for the cloaks. None of all that.

"Antoine's" is to-day what it was in its inception, (it has been operated by the same family since 1840) an immaculately clean place, with tableware and linen of the severe solid homelike type, and attentive noiseless waiters, who speak many tongues because they have learned their avocation on two continents. There is no deafening brass band to take the "rest" out of "restaurane" and put the "din" in "dinner". There are no boisterous table neighbors. In fact there is nothing at "Antoine's" to prevent your full enjoyment of the wonderful cooking there provided.

Welch's Hut Cops Banner Again For Neatest Campers

"Cub" Scouts' Outing Draws Toward Close; Thursday Busy Day

Special To The News)

Thursday proved to be a busy day for the campers at Scout Camp Philips.

Hut 1, in charge of Gordon Welch, again won the inspection banner. This is the third day they have held it as their own.

Life guards in charge of Sandy Howard have been busy for the past few days teaching a group of nine non-swimmers to swim. Four of the boys today succeeded in passing the beginners test. They are Sam Wright, John Close, Jack Dunn, and William Reed. Two boys passed the more difficult swimmers test they are Chester Swick, and Frank Robertson.

Today's mushball game was won by the team captained by Frank Robertson. Shortly after supper Gordon Welsh led the boys in an interesting nature study hike to the Jordan game farm. Others of the boys spent an hour boating on the river under the supervision of Sandy Howard. The last feature of the day was a game of capture the flag. Call to quarters interrupted the boys after a furious and strategic battle of an hour and at 9:45 the sound of taps brought to a close another happy day.

The county's younger Boy Scouts, known as "Cubs" are enjoying the week at the camp. The regular season for older scouts opens Monday.

P. H. C. Members Select Officers

Reports Are Also Heard From National Convention At Capital

Pleasant rivalry was the keynote of the election of officers held by New Castle Circle No. 5 Protected Home Circle on Wednesday night. The attendance was large and the circle was favored with the presence of State Deputy M. M. Henlein and wife of Erie, who gave splendid addresses. Brother Henlein must look out or some of his laurels will be passed over to his fascinating little wife. Then, too, Accountant Minnie E. Lord of Scranton, Pa., added such a sparkling address it was just too bad she did not speak longer.

Wonderful reports were the echoes that came from the recent supreme convention held in Washington, D. C., where about 36 representatives of the local circle including the famous Knickerbocker degree team were royally entertained.

Accountant George W. Muse and supreme representative, A. L. Conn, most humorously told of their experiences in the Capitol City but "nuf sed."

There were about 900 representing the organization at the big convention and while the many degree teams attracted attention in the competitive drills none received more compliments and continued applause than did the Knickerbocker girls from No. 5, adding new laurels to their beautiful work—with the election of officers as tellers the chair appointed Ira Campbell, treasurer, George W. Wyman and past-president, David Tucker, and following the election light refreshments were served and a social hour closed the session. The election follows:—

President—Nora McCann.
Vice-President—Harry Mehlman.
Guardian—Helen Ray.
Chaplain—Hildred Back.
Guide—Anna Stephenson.
Companion—Ruby Burdette.
Sentinel—Catharine Cowles.
Watchman—Flora Cunningham.
Pianist—Hazel Hicks.

The accountant is appointed by the supreme body and is George W. Muse. The secretary and treasurer are annually elected and is Treasurer George W. Wyman and Secretary Lillie B. Jones.

Battery B Reunion Occurs Saturday

Legion Post And North Beaver Township Citizens In Charge Of Event

Annual reunion and observance of Battery B. Day, at Mt. Jackson, will be held Saturday. Due to the fact that there are no present known original members of the battery living, the affair is being held under the joint supervision of Earl W. Watt Post No. 638, American Legion and citizens of North Beaver township and Mt. Jackson.

Attorney Walter W. Braham of this city has been selected as orator of the day at the program to be presented in the auditorium of the Mt. Jackson Consolidated School at two o'clock E. S. T. in the afternoon.

The program of the day will start at 10:30 a. m. E. S. T., with a memorial service at the Battery B Monument, near Mt. Jackson. Veterans of the civil war will be special guests of honor on this occasion.

Many descendants of members of the famous military organization will be present and participate in the proceedings of the day.

BLOOD PRESSURE MAY BE REDUCED

High blood pressure is not only dangerous, but entails suffering which often is needless. But you can get rid of the kidney and bladder weakness, blinding headaches, back-break pains and torturing nerve tension while reducing pressure.

Ask your druggist for a box of Wildunger Tee, which contains valuable mineral salts from the famous Wildunger Bad in Germany. Unless the very first box brings grateful, comforting relief, your money back.

A New York doctor while traveling in Germany was so impressed with the results thousands were securing from this great kidney and bladder activator that he brought Wildunger Tee to this country. Many American doctors now prescribe it and report that its benefits are equally surprising here.

You can get Wildunger Tee on the distinct understanding that unless it helps, your money will be refunded to you. It may be had at New Castle Drug Co., 31 East Washington St. and 44 North Mill St.

G. W. C. CLUB HAS SPECIAL OUTING

An enjoyable meeting of the G. W. C. club members was held Thursday at Cascade Park when twenty-three, including Mrs. C. E. Stritmater, Mrs. William Twaddle, Mrs. James Bechtol and Miss Nell Scott, who were special guests, gathered for a picnic dinner. A delicious menu was served at the set hour, and later, the park amusements were enjoyed, whiling away the remaining hours.

Plans were completed for another affair of this nature to take place in four weeks. The place will be decided upon later.

M. and D. Club

The M. and D. Club held a delightful meeting at the home of Mrs. Roy Smith on Huron avenue Thursday evening. Bingo was played, and prizes were given to Mrs. Oliver Fleeger, Mrs. Kenneth Boalick and Mrs. Rose Alexander at the close of the contest. The club token went to Mrs. A. E. Miaracher.

Lunch was served by the hostess at tables arranged in tones of green and white. Later, a business session conducted, and plans completed for an outing to be held at Lakewood Beach on July 14th.

West Side Club

The West Side Club members met at the home of Mrs. Richard Hannon on Mahoning avenue Thursday evening for their regular social event. Cards were played and prizes won by Mrs. John Carr, Mrs. John Rooney and Mrs. Carl Fulkerson.

After the serving of a most delicious lunch by the hostess, assisted by her daughter Miss Helen Hannon, the ladies departed.

In two weeks Mrs. Edward Cavendar of West Washington street will be hostess.

W. C. B. Class Picnic

Members of the W. C. B. class of the Wesley Methodist church, each took a special guest and journeyed to Cascade Park Thursday afternoon, where a picnic supper was held in the grove.

The tables were beautified by the addition of bouquets of the summer flowers and a delicious menu was served from the tureens brought by the members.

Dance at Field Club

The second of the series of informal dances planned during the summer season for Field Club members will be held on Saturday evening at the New Castle Field Club house. Dancing will be the main feature, and for those not desiring to take part in this part of the program, card tables will be arranged, and a game of bridge indulged in.

The dance committee state that from all indications, this affair will prove unusually entertaining.

X. L. Bridge Club

Mrs. Robert Sadler of North Mill street received the X. L. Bridge club members in her home on a recent evening. Cards were played and honors were held at the close of the game by Mrs. Willis Shuway. Miss Ethel Wagner and Mrs. Helen Holmes. A dainty lunch was later served by the hostess, assisted by her mother, Mrs. Earl Wallover.

The next meeting will be held on July 14 at the home of Mrs. Holmes at 606 Croton avenue.

Auxiliary Meeting

The Ladies' auxiliary of the United Commercial Travelers 408, held their monthly business session Thursday evening in the City building and planned for their annual breakfast, which will be held at Cascade park Thursday, July 23 at 9 a. m.

At the conclusion of business delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses: Mrs. W. C. Eckenroad, Mrs. F. C. Shale and Mrs. William Blews.

Stewart Reunion

The annual Stewart reunion, descendants of James and Eliza Stewart, of Wampum, was held at Frisce, Conn-Camp Wednesday with thirty present. Dinner was served at 1 o'clock at tables decorated with garden flowers.

A business session was called and it was ffdecided to hold the next gathering at the same place, and same date.

Bible Conference To Close Sunday

Rev. G. M. Landis, Pastor Of First Baptist Church, Chosen President For Year

A large audience listened with close attention as Dr. R. E. Neighbour gave a marvelous exposition of the forty-fifth Psalm last night at the Western Pennsylvania Bible Conference in the First Presbyterian church of Slippery Rock. His subject was "Things Touching the King" and was a matchless portrayal of the glories of the Lord Jesus Christ. This evening Dr. Neighbour will continue the exposition under the subject "The Knights of Christ." An increasingly large audience is anticipated, as the message of last night captivated the hearts of the listeners.

The program for Saturday will be as follows: 2:30 p. m. "Bible Standards for Home Sweet Home" by Rev. J. S. Cotton: 3:30 p. m. "May a Christian Know that He Is Saved" a message on Christian assurance by Dr. Walter E. McClure, who will speak instead of Rev. H. C. McClure whose name appears on the program. 7:30 p. m. "The Kingship of Christ" Dr. Neighbour.

At a meeting of the Directors of the conference the following officers were elected for the coming year: President, George M. Landis, pastor First Baptist church, New Castle: vice president, Hugh Cameron McClure, pastor First Presbyterian Church of Slippery Rock: secretary, Hiram H. VanCleve, pastor North Liberty Presbyterian church: treasurer, Charles C. Mohney, pastor of the Bethel M. E. Church of Oil City. The directors expressed themselves as being encouraged at the growth of the conference. Its permanence seems to be assured.

July Fourth Danger Now Minimized

Common Sense And Serum Save Lives On Holidays

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

The reduction in the danger of the Fourth of July has been accomplished largely by common sense. Even yet, however, there is the necessity for supervision and care and the prevention of deaths on this happy occasion is still possible.

The greatest danger in the old Fourth of July was from tetanus. Not from immediate injury by toy cannons or firecrackers or pistols, but from infection of the wounds so received by lockjaw germs. Tetanus is always a danger in a wound into which street dirt or dust has entered. The tetanus germs grow in the large intestines of horses and other herbivorous animals and when horse dung has been scattered on the street a fine culture of such dangerous material is planted there. Whether the comparative disappearance of the horse from our city streets has contributed to the lower mortality and incidence of Fourth of July tetanus is problematical, but it is not likely, because one or two horses can scatter enough tetanus germs to kill a whole community.

The most potent factor in the saving of life on the Fourth of July has been the limitation of armaments. The embargo on the sale of cannon crackers, especially the dynamite variety, the toy cannon and the overloaded pistol that sooner or later was doomed to explode. One shudders to remember the afternoon of the oldfashioned Fourth of July—our exhausted male parents sitting on the front porch lighting dynamite crackers from their cigars and tossing them into the air to explode. No wonder the old fifth of July was a day of death, blindness and maimedness.

An equal amount of credit must be given to the general use of anti-tetanus serum. This serum is for the prevention (not cure) of tetanus and should be given to any person who has had a wound breaking the the skin which could possibly have been contaminated with street dirt, barnyard dirt or soil from a spot where fertilizer has been used. It should be given hypodermically as soon as possible after the wound has been received. It can be obtained from any drug store, put up in a hypodermic syringe package with a sterile needle ready for immediate administration. Naturally, such packages are put up in proper dosage for tetanus prevention—1,000 units for adults, 500 for children.

Lately manufacturers have added preventive serum against the gas gangrene bacillus to their ordinary anti-tetanus serum, a valuable ordinary idea, as both infections have somewhat the same origin and both are equally terrible in effect.

The value of anti-tetanic serum in preventing lockjaw is beyond dispute. During the World war, before its universal use in the German army, lockjaw occurred among 1½ per cent of the wounded; after its introduction in only 1-10 of 1 per cent.

In 1903 there were 406 deaths from lockjaw in the United States following Fourth of July injuries. In 1914 there were three.

QUESTIONS FROM READERS

S. R., New York City: "Do you approve of crude oil for the scalp to relieve loss of hair or baldness?"

Answer: In my opinion crude oil will not relieve loss of hair or baldness.

* * *

W. P., Los Gatos, Cal., "I would like to know about the prostate gland in a man: the cause and cure. What is the operation in such a case? Do people often die from such an operation?"

Answer: The prostate gland frequently enlarges in men of advanced years. The cause of this is not certainly known. There are several operations for relief. These operations may be removal of the entire gland or removal of a portion of it. In a great majority of cases they are strikingly successful. On account of the advanced age of the individual they necessarily carry considerable hazard.

2749 Qualify At Teacher Colleges

HARRISBURG, June 27—Reports received in the Department of Public Instruction from the fourteen State Teachers Colleges show that 2,749 men and women were graduated in June at these institutions. Of these, 1976 received diplomas in the two-year course; forty-one, in the three-year course; and 732 in the four-year college course.

Of the 732 that received baccalaureate degrees, two were in the kindergarten field, thirty-eight in the elementary field, 415 in the junior high school field, thirty-two in art, fourteen in commercial, 122 in health, forty-two in home economics, twenty-seven in industrial arts, and forty in music.

The figures show a decided trend toward the four-year or degree granting courses and more than half the degrees granted were in the junior high school field. The names of the institutions with the number of graduates are as follows:

E. Lackawannock

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shields and daughter Eleanor of Coitsville, O., were visitors at the home of Mrs. Shields' brother, J. A. Dodds and family, on Tuesday evening.

The following members of the Social Hour club met at Mount Pleasant grange hall on Wednesday and spent the day quilting for Mrs. J. B. Hawthorne, who has been seriously ill for the past year: Mrs. Pyle, Mrs. James, Mrs. Jessie Osborne, Mrs. Charles Ramsey, Mrs. Belle Hawthorne, Mrs. Fair, Mrs. S. W. Ligo, Mrs. James Osborne, Mrs. F. Hoagland, Mrs. Joseph Bowen, Mrs. Cress, Mrs. F. M. Anderson and Mrs. Hazlett. Mrs. Uber and Mrs. Stonebraker and Mrs. Malinda Anderson were visitors.

This vicinity was visited by a very severe wind storm on Saturday about 4:30. The new house that John Gilliland is building was blown down completely. Several orchards were nearly all destroyed and lots of other trees uprooted. At the farm of Mrs. Marie Robinson the silo was blown down and six head of sheep killed. The wind was accompanied by lightning rain and hail and was the worst ever remembered in this community.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Osborne and Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Garner returned home Monday evening after a several days' visit at the home of the former's brother, William Osborne and wife in Windsor, Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. Caldwell McConnell of Rich Hill and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Bush of Mercer were all day visitors at the home of Carl Swartz on Sabbath.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Humphrey were at Mercer hospital Sunday afternoon where they visited their cousin, Mrs. Martin of Polk, who is seriously ill following an operation.

Mrs. F. F. Foltz and daughter Sadie Mae spent Tuesday at Grove City where they visited at the home of the former's sister, Mrs. Meyer.

Mr. and Mrs. Schumack of Conneaut, O., spent Thursday afternoon and night at the home of their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. James Osborne.

Mr. and Mrs. John Garrett and daughter Eleanor and Mr. and Mrs. Amzi Heckathorne and children were entertained at the home of the former's sister, Mrs. Russell Rodgers, Saturday evening wtih ice cream, cake and strawberries as the main attraction.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Smith and children of East Brook spent the weekend at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Hawthorne.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Rankin and daughter Nancy Jean of Sharon were guests at the home of their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Hoagland, Wednesday night and Thursday.

Raymond, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Shannon, is ill at his home suffering with scarlet fever.

Mrs. Tillie Grim and son Harold of Volant were dinner guests at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Elmer Humphrey on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Mercer of Youngstown, O., were Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Pyle.

Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Fyffe have returned to their home in Mercer after spending the week at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Harry Anderson.

Mrs. M. J. McCommon, Mrs. Carl Lockard and daughter Eleanor of New Castle were Sunday evening callers at the home om Mr. and Mrs Joseph Bowen.

Trap On Leg Fails To Hamper Mallard

HARRISBURG, June 26.—A wild Mallard duck manages to survive with a steel trap attached to its foot and is seen daily as it flies over Beaver Creek near Downingtown, according to reports to the Game Commission offices here. For several years Mallards have taken a fancy to the Beaver Creek surroundings and have been propagating successfully. About this time last year a farmer residing close to the creek caught a half dozen ducklings and turned them over to a district game protector.

District Game Protector McCannon of Coatesville will investigate conditions along Beaver Creek and hopes to learn who is setting traps at this time of the season.

Settlement Made On Ancient Debts

READING, Pa., June 26.—Debts contracted one hundred years ago were paid off here recently when seven mortgages totalling $2,419,764 against the old Schuylkill Navigation company were cleared.

The oldest of the mortgage debts was recorded on December 15, 1823. It represented money loaned the company by Stephen Girard, 19th century Philadelphia capitalist. A sum of $230,850 was paid the Girard Estate to satisfy the old deed.

The other mortgages were dated 1824, 1842, and 1870 and were paid to the estates of New York and Philadelphia capitalists through metropolitan banks.

The deeds were preserved in the county records kept in three courthouses. They were placed originally in the first Berks County courthouse on Penn street; transferred later to a building on North Sixth street; and more recently retained in the temporary structure housing county offices until the new courthouse has been constructed.

Former Mayor Of Pittsburgh Speaks On Canal

Says Communities Affected Should Pay For Project, Not Government

SAYS PRESENT IS OPPORTUNE TIME

Former Mayor William A. Magee of Pittsburgh, addressing members of the Beacon Club of that city last evening, urged early construction of the Lake Erie and Ohio river ship canal, but asserted that it would not be paid for by the Federal government, but by the communities which would be directly benefitted.

Mr. Magee urged Allegheny county interests to join with Youngstown, and other industrial centers in financing the greater part of the construction of such a canal.

He stated that the time was now opportune for action on the canal project.

The former mayor of Pittsburgh, said that he had not been active in the interests of the canal since 1915, principally because of the high cost its construction would entail.

Dr. McClure Has Interesting Theme

Will Preach On Subject Of Christian Faith Next Sunday Evening

Sunday evening at the First Presbyterian church, Dr. Walter E. McClure will preach on the theme, "What is Christian Faith?" This is a message that has been given many times at Bible conferences, and will be given this summer at least three times to various conference groups.

In this message, the distinctive beliefs of the Christian religion are pointed out, and emphasized. A man must be more than religious to be a Christian. In our day, many people seem to forget this fact. A host of people today seem to be saying, "Lord, Lord," but they will never see the Kingdom of God, for they are not truly Christian believers.

This is a most serious question and Dr. McClure invites the public to hear it discussed.

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

Mark off another occupation as having no particular attraction for people who like to live long. It's that of the night mail flyer. Wotta life. Wotta job. F'r instance last night. Or rather this morning.

They tell me it was about 2:30 when that half pint portion of the big wind in Ireland broke loose. It was strong enough to wake me up, which puts it in the class of something out of the ordinary. Shortly before the wind and rain were at the heighth, a mail plane came across New Castle, flying low, battling his way through the mail which was delivered today.

In the packets he carried were probably a lot of billets doux as the dear French would have it, a flock of statements of account, and some advertisements of what the well dressed man will wear this summer, if any. And this lad was taking it right on the button from old man Elements, just to get that mail through.

He could have landed in some corn field, no doubt, or he could have back tracked to the nearest landing field. But there's an esprit d'corps about the air mail service, a pride of accomplishment, and a daring about the flyers that scoffs at everything but fog and snow.

And I hope that some of the folks who have been putting in eight dollar evergreens the last few weeks, didn't go out this morning to find them flatter than a warmed over egg plant. And there isn't anything flatter than that.

Got to talking to a gentleman last night who recently retired from active life after a long, hard service in transportation. His years of service gave him perception and judgment and somehow or other what he said seemed to hit the bull's eye.

"I'm not much of a hand to talk about the depression" said he. "There's been too much talk about it as it is, but it's my idea that we've turned the corner and it won't be long until we're out in the sunshine of prosperity again. And when we do get out there, as we certainly will, we're going to forget this depression. This isn't the first storm this country has weathered, and won't be the last. In the past 76 years in the United States we have had 16 periods of depression and after every one we've pushed ahead to new heights."

"I can just remember the depression of 1873. I was working in 1893 when that depression hit us and what a daisy it was. In 1907 we had another one, and a few years later we had another one. The thing is, we've always pulled out of the depression and we're coming out of this one. It's time to lay away the crepe and put out the bunting."

That golf match between the New Castle Field Club and the Municipal Course golfers last night is reason for a low, quiet chuckle. Not a first rate chuckle perhaps just a sort of a boy size chuck. But the answer is, the Muny clubbers took the measure of the Field Club lads, and there seems to be nothing left but the river for the latter.

There was one lad playing for the Municipal club who two years ago would have soon thought playing golf as he would be caught carrying a vanity case. Anything that didn't require brute strength and courage was to effeminate for him. And then he took up the game. In his one year he has come along like a celluloid collar on fire. In the match yesterday he defeated a chap who a few years ago was club champion of the Field Club. Which isn't half bad at all.

If you fail to solve school problems, you are dumb. If you fail to solve national problems, you are still a great statesman.

WASHINGTON, June 26.—Boon Island Lighthouse, Maine, on the route from Boston to ports in Maine and the Maritime Provinces, is soon to shine much brighter, according to the Lighthouse Service of the Department of Commerce. Complete electrication will increase the candlepower of the important coastwise light from 17,000 to 75,000 making it the most powerful light between Cape Elizabeth, near Portland, and The Graves, just outside Boston Harbor. The grey granite tower, on a small island lying six miles off the coast is the sixth oldest lighthouse in the State of Maine, having been built as far back as 1812.

MacMillan Arctic Expedition Plans Search For French Flyers

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, Calif., June, 26.—That the fate of the attempted transAtlantic flight of Capt. Charles Nungesser and Francois Coli in 1927 in their craft "White Bird" might be solved by his expedition to the arctic region of Nain Labrador in June, was the hope expressed here by Commander Donald B. MacMillan, explorer of arctic wastes, who once accompanied Commander Richard E. Byrd to the North Pole.

The commander and about fifty men were scheduled to sail from Wiscasset, Me., June 21. They will travel in three vessels. The cargo will include two airplanes equipped for arctic flying.

Aside from their quest of the wreckage of the French plane and possibly the skeletons of the men, the objectives of the expedition will be to explore and map from the air the interior of Baffin Land and Labrador and to determine the practicability of an airplane route which would transport passengers and airmail to isolated habitations of the far north.

Another feature of the expedition was revealed in plans of MacMillan to attempt a round trip flight from Boston to England, with Charles E. Rocheville, veteran former Navy aviator of Los Angeles, as pilot. If this is a success it will be the first America to England round trip flight.

MacMillan was in Los Angeles with Rocheville to test the powerful monoplane which they will use on the round trip hop and in aerial exploration and mapping surveys of the Labrador regions. The craft was equipped with skiis and pontoons for landing on either water or ice. Mapping equipment and a radio were also installed. The plane has a gasoline capacity for a 2200 mile jump.

In efforts to invade the ice-bound regions MacMillan and Rocheville will be the first to explore the section, inaccessible by dog team. There is a possibility that an attempt will be made to land in the interior of Baffin Land. The mother vessels will remain along the coast of Labrador where soundings will be made and the waters charted.

According to the explorer's plans it was indicated that while he and pilot Rocheville negotiated their flight to England the balance of the expedition party would remain at Labrador at a base established for supplies.

MacMillan based his hope of unraveling the mystery of the illfated "White Bird's" flight on his friendship with the Indians of the region and his knowledge of the territory. He had also talked with other transAtlantic flyers who were familiar with the dangers of the course.

Only one man saw what he believed was the ill-starred craft heading into a storm off the coast of Ireland. Reports from Labrador and Newfoundland stated Indians had heard the roar of an airplane apparently flying low.

DAYS Are Here. Prices Are Going Higher

Reprint of Our Editorial of June 5, 1931

"With prices down to rock bottom, you may buy with confidence. WE BELIEVE PRICES ARE DOWN TO THE LOW POINT NOW. A few may go still lower on 'distress merchandise.' But we are in the market every day and we know that most surplus stock has largely been disposed of. Generally speaking new goods cannot be made at lower prices, and as business shows an upturn, PRICES WILL QUICKLY GO HIGHER. Buy now with confidence in this Low Point Sale."

Front Page News of June 22, 1931

Frankly, when we made this prophecy we did not expect the market to turn as quickly as it has. This week cotton advanced $3.55 per bale; silk is up 1.6 yen; stocks and bonds soared. Everything is up. You are going to pay more for things from now on. Modest as we would like to be we can't keep from saying, "we told you so." Today is likely the Lowest Price Hour of your Life-Time. When the things we offer now will have to be replaced we will have to increase prices. Shop Fisher's now during these "Golden Opportunity Days."

Lawrence County Farms And Farmers

By H. R. McCulloch, County Agent

THINNING AIDS QUALITY AND INCREASES RETURNS

Thinning demonstrations in Luzerne, Dauphin, Northampton, and Franklin counties last year definitely proved that apples and peaches were of superior quality and substantial financial gains were experienced where thinning was practiced, says John Ruef, fruit extension specialist of the Pennsylvania State College.

In Luzerne county where early varieties were thinned, the yields per tree were 7½ bushels of No. 1 apples, 1½ bushels of No. 2, and ¼ bushel of No. 3. Unthinned trees averaged 1 bushel of 3-inch apples, 5 bushels of 2-inch apples, and 3 bushels of 1 1-4 inch apples. The thinned trees returned $4.76 per tree over unthinned at an expense of 40 cents a tree for labor.

In Franklin county with peaches the thinned trees averaged 2 bushels of No. 1 fruit, .93 bushels of No. 2, and .27 bushel of culls. Unthinned trees produced .82 bushel of No. 1 fruit, 2.4 bushels of No. 2, and .44 bushel of culls. At 40 cents an hour, thinning gave a net return of $48.60 an acre.

Since thinning is a profitable practice, more growers could adopt it in their orchard management system. Thinning of peaches should be done promptly, and with apples the work should be done immediately after the June drop. Size of fruit will be increased, color will be improved, breakage will be eliminated, and cost of harvesting will be reduced, but annual bearing cannot be guaranteed. The average cost is 2 to 3 cents a bushel.

In thinning, apples should be spaced 6 to 8 inches and peaches 4 to 6 inches. Peaches can be removed by hand, taking those that are likely to become limb rubbed and those that show disease and insect injury. Apples also can be removed by hand if pressure is applied to the stem and apples forced off by fingers. With some varieties injury to spurs results and reduces future crops. When shears are used the stem is severed and no injury results. If thinning is done recklessly so that the stem when removed from the spur leaves a large wound, the apples left may soon drop off because of insufficient moisture.

MINERALS AND VITAMINS MAKE EGG SHELLS STRONG

When laying hens are in heavy production over a long period of time many poultrymen gather weak shelled eggs. One reason for this condition is that the birds are forming egg yolks and whites faster than they can build up the egg shells.

Laying hens have an ample supply of oyster shells, but they eat only the coarser pieces. They cannot digest the larger pieces of oyster shell and transform them into egg shells as fast as they can powdered oyster shell or pulverized limestone. The limestone should be at least 96 per cent calcium carbonate. Most of the limestone used on land is satisfactory. Two to four pounds of ground limestone or powdered oyster shell can be added to 100 pounds of laying mash when the birds are in heavy production and the egg shells are thin. When the birds drop to low production these minerals should be omitted from the ration.

There may be weak shells when the birds have an ample supply of oyster shells and pulverized limestone if they do not have an ample supply of vitamin D in the ration. Vitamin D is found in most greens and cod liver oil. Direct sunlight also helps to make these minerals digestible. During the summer, however, usually it is a shortage of fine ground minerals which causes thin shelled eggs.

If laying hens cannot get sufficient minerals out of their daily rations to build up egg shells, they drain the minerals from their bones. For this reason, keel bones which are straight when pullets start to lay will be crooked before they have finished production for the year.

CURB POTATO BEETLES WITH ARSENATE SPRAY

Colorado potato beetles promise to be more abundant this year than for several years.

Particular attention should be given to using poison in the early sprays on potatoes. The use of 4 pounds of arsenate of lead or 3 pounds of calcium arsenate in 100 gallons of bordeaux mixture is recommended. Both the upper and under sides of the leaves should be covered.

Leaf hoppers are very abundant on apples and this indicates that, with favorable seasonal conditions, there will be a serious infestation on potatoes. A thorough covering of spray will make the leaves unsuitable for the hoppers.

WOOL TO BE POOLED NEXT WEEK

The annual pooling of wool under the auspices of the Lawrence County Wool Growers Association will be conducted next week. Wools will be received at the Association Warehouse on Moravia street, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. W. B. Connell, wool specialist from State College, will oversee the grading of the wool.

The wools to be received Monday will come from North Beaver township, Lawrence County, and Butler County. The schedule for Tuesday will include Plaingrove, Slippery Rock, Wilmington, Wayne, Perry, Shenango, Hickory, Neshannock, Pulaski, and Scott townships. Wednesday; wool from Union, Little Beaver, Mahoning, and Big Beaver townships in Lawrence county and Beaver county will be received. Any other sections not included in this schedule should come in on Wednesday.

The association handled approximately 55,000 pounds of wool last year from growers in Lawrence, Butler, and Beaver Counties. The 1931 pool has been sold to Horkheimer Brothers of Wheeling, West Virginia, and will be shipped out immediately following the grading.

SPRAY OR DUST APHIDS WITH NICOTINE MIXTURE

Black aphids on nasturtiums can be controlled by spraying or dusting. If a spray is to be used, it can be prepared with 4 teaspoonfuls of nicotine sulphate, and 2 tablespoonfuls of soap flakes or 1 cubic inch of laundry soap dissolved in a gallon of water. For dusting, mix 5 pounds of hydrated lime and one-half pound of nicotine sulphate. This is double strength, as the aphids are hard to kill. These control measures will be effective for aphids on shrubbery also, except those kinds having tightly curled leaves.

GROWERS TO STAGE POTATO EXPOSITION

For the second time in three years the Pennsylvania Potato Growers' Association will stage a Potato Exposition at the Pennsylvania State College, August 24 to 26. Production, marketing, and consumption will be emphasized in the exposition, according to L. T. Denniston, who has been selected as executive secretary. Mornings will be devoted to speaking programs, and the afternoons will be used for demonstrations, exhibits, and machinery displays. A dozen acres have been set aside by the college farms department for field demonstrations.

Three Cars In Bad Collision At Moody And Mercer

Claim Driver Of One Car Sped Through Stop Sign Without Slacking Speed

Three automobiles figured in a collision at Moody avenue and North Mercer street shortly after 8 o'clock last evening, which might have resulted more seriously than it did.

H. C. Turner of 359 East North street, stated that he was traveling west on Moody avenue, and although he had the right of way, had slackened the speed of his car and looked up and down the street before crossing. He started across the street, when a machine being driven by a man, said to be named Black and driving a car bearing Ohio license 21-633 sped down Mercer street at a high rate of speed without stopping for the traffic stop sign at that point.

Mr. Turner stated that his car ran into the rear wheel of the Ohio car, which skidded down the street, turned completely around and crashed into a car being driven by John Fishburn of Highland avenue extension, which bore Ohio license No. 804-350. Fisburn is a salesman for an Ohio grocery products concern. His car was badly damaged as was that of the other car bearing the Ohio license.

Mr. Turner called police and asked that Black be arrested, but no record of any action against the man could be found on the police docket this morning. There was only a meager report of the accident recorded.

STUDENT WINS $500

(International News Service)

NEW HAVEN, Conn.—By estimating the sources for two characters in Hawthorne's "Scarlet Letter" and writing an essay around his findings George Aaron Saden of Bridgeport, Conn., won $500. A senior, he took the first award of the Henry H. Strong prize in American literature at Yale university, with his study of Arthur Dimmesdale and Roger Chillingworth, in the great Hawthorne novel.

The old-timer had sense. He didn't call it a "high standard of living" if he spent all he made to keep up a fast horse.

Heavy Wire Prevents Machine From Toppling Into Creek Near Stroudsburg

WAS ALONE WHEN ACCIDENT OCCURRED

(International News Service)

STROUDSBURG, Pa., June 26.—Mrs. Gifford Pinchot, wife of the governor, today was recounting her narrow escape from serious injury last night when the automobile which she was driving alone to her Milford home, was halted at the edge of a 12-foot drop by a heavy wire serving as a guard rail along the road at North Water Gap near here.

But for the heavy wire, Mrs. Pinchot's car would have dropped off into Marshall's Creek, possibly seriously injuring her. Three heavy posts were snapped off when her car ran off the road as she tried to arrange a trunk in the machine.

Introduce New Sidewalk Bill

Property Owner Must Bear Responsibility Of Building Sidewalks

Council met today in city hall and during the session Councilman Treser introduced an ordinance which provided for the grading, construction, maintenance and repair of sidewalks and for the collection and payment of costs, expenses thereof from the abutting property owners and providing for penalties and repealing inconsistent measures.

According to the bill the property owners are responsible for the construction and if they neglect that duty or interfere with the free uses of any sidewalk they shall be guilty of an offense against the police power of the city and upon conviction can be fined as high as $300 and sent to jail for 30 days.

The measure calls for the width of the sidewalk to be one-fifth of the width of the street and cement material is to be used except when otherwise provided. The thickness is to be four inches.

Roof water must be carried in drains beneath the sidewalks.

WAS FRIEND OF "BIG SIX"

DENVER—A Denver policeman who played ball with Christy Mathewson as a boy in Factoryville, Pa., recently ended his 24-year career as a peace officer by retiring. Capt. John A. Cook played corner lot ball with Mathewson in Factoryville, which had neither a factory nor a mill. The two were boon companions and in addition to playing ball together, often hoed potatoes together at the Cook home. Cook was a pitcher and first baseman, Mathewson always a pitcher.

Regardless of what they may know about navigation, the Navy varsity crew has demonstrated competence at the oars.—The Lowell Evening Leader.

The Parent Problem
by GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.

Inferiority Complexes Of Parents Need To Be Reduced, Myers States

Eminent Psychologist Congratulates Columnist For Efforts At Making Mothers Feel More Worthy

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph. D.
Head Division Parental Education
Cleveland College, Western Reserve University

The kindest personal note which I received about my last book from any one of eminence was from Dr. Karl Menninger, who wrote that he liked my efforts at helping mothers reduce their inferiority complex. An occasional parent so writes me about my column. But every time I read such a commendation I get an increased felling of inferiority myself and an increased fear lest, in spite of my efforts, some of my readers will acquire remorse and will condemn themselves upon reading some of my articles.

The problem gives me some concern. I sometimes think a good deal of the literature to parents on bringing up their children, and some of the lectures and discussions in study groups, have done considerable harm when their purpose was to do good: have made parents unhappy when their aim was to increase their happiness.

The trouble is that those parents who need guidance most are least aware of this need, while many of the best parents are over-sensitive about their own shortcomings.

As I have said before in this column, if you find yourself frequently or long depressed, feel yourself often dejected as a parent, better cease to read advice to parents and to avoid lectures and study groups. Parents of older children and grandmothers who are very conscientious are, I guess, the keenest sufferers, since they sit and say to themselves, "If only I had known these things earlier." While it is possible that they might have done better, it also is possible that they might have done worse. Anyway, they have done much better than they think they have. We know a great many mothers and grandmothers who had never been exposed to the modern "wisdom" about rearing children whom we envy for their very successful parenthood. Sometimes we could well affaird to inquire into the secrets of their successes. Anyway, the parents of grown-up children is in a very strategic position to encourage sons and daughters to make the best possible use of the expert guidance now available which, in the light of experience, seems to bring good results.

The younger parents of today could more often win the sympathy and co-operation of the older parents and the grandparents, if the younger parents, and the modern child expert, were to recognize more value in the teaching of early restraints.

While at the state convention of the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers a little while ago I heard Mrs. J. B. Nicholson of Grand Rapids, who is a member of the board of education there and of the local Mental Hygiene committee, say she observed that a good many mothers attending study groups were sometimes deeply discouraged by the leader, who made them magnify their own shortcomings. This sort of reaction I have observed from numerous sources lately and I am trying to take it home to myself. I wish that my fellow experts who have been leading study groups and teaching courses to parents would think these things, too. We cannot afford to be a menace when our sole purpose is to make homes and parents and children happier.

I should like to know what my readers have observed in respect to the phenomenon which I have described and I should greatly appreciate a note from any one who discovers in my column an article which has had on him or her an ill effect.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Two pamphlets by Dr. Myers may be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin, for each, and a self-addressed stamped envelope, to Dr. Garry C. Myers, in care of this paper, or Central Press Association, 1435 East Twelfth street Cleveland, O. The pamphlets are: "Punishments and Rewards," and "Fear."

Collects Copies Of Lord's Prayer

Allentown Pastor Pursues Unique Hobby — Has Many Copies Of Prayer

(International News Service)

ALLENTOWN, Pa., June 26. — Collection of 1287 copies of the Lord's Prayer, written by hand in as many languages, is the unusual hobby of a fellow-cleric disclosed here by the Rev. Ladislaus Nagy, rector of St. Stephen's Roman Catholic church here.

The collector, Father Nagy said, is the Rev. Kerest Norte, of Osken, Hungary. His copies of the prayer, the local priest said, have come from all corners of the earth and are considered one of the most valuable assemblages of religious material ever made.

Only other collection of the sort known is one comprising one thousand hand-written copies of the prayer, presented to Pope Pius XI during the Holy Year of 1925.

The Flower Parade

Written For Central Press

CARE OF CUT FLOWERS

Cut flowers should be put immediately in a clean container filled with cool, fresh water, and the ends of their stems clipped off while submerged. This gives a fresh surface through which water can enter the stems, and is one of the important points to be observed in prolonging treatment recommended by horticulturists of the Bureau of Plant Industry.

Unless the flowers are to be used at once for decoration, the gardener will do well to lay the flowers—stems and foliage and all—under water in a cool place for a few hours.

Many experiments have been made to find a chemical that will aid the water in prolonging the life of cut flowers. Success has been reported from time to time. But studies of the problem indicate that thus far no substance is known that added to water will lengthen the freshness of cut flowers.

In the laboratory, cut flowers have been kept in an atmosphere heavily charged with carbon dioxide, and in some cases flowers treated this way have lasted longer. But it remains to be seen whether such a method can be made practicable in the home.

Cut flowers should be arranged in a cool place, not too dry, and free from draughts. A draught of dry air wilts flowers quickly.

The water in the container should be changed once a day and a bit of the stem clipped off under water. Changing the water keeps down the number of organisms that injure the flowers. The whole thought in preserving cut flowers is to retard the breakdown of the plant's tissue.

Students To Visit Russia, China, Japan

(International News Service)

BERKELEY, Cal., June 26.—A five-year research into the historical, political, economic and cultural factors in the relations of Russia, China and Japan will be launched at once by the University of California.

The project is sponsored by the council of the Institute of Social Sciences and will operate as a "northeastern Asia seminar."

Visits of graduate students and faculty members to the countries named are planned and efforts are being made to raise between $13,900 and $[illegible],000 a year for this purpose.

The task has been inaugurated by the writing of three reports on sources of material in the native languages. Professor Robert J. Kerner reported on Russia, Professor Yoshi Kuno on Japan and Professor Esson M. Gale on China.

SCHOOLGIRL GETS SMALLEST LETTER

(International News Service)

ALHAMBRA, Cal., June 26—What is believed to be the smallest letter ever written was delivered through the mail to June Bebe, a schoolgirl, from Donald Funk, 18.

Donald wrote the letter of 112 words on the back of a postage stamp and dropped it into a mail box.

The message included the girl's address. The stamp with its microscopic lettering was delivered promptly.

At school Donald writes his lessons in tiny but legible words which rival the "Lord's Prayer" minutely engraved on coins.

SISTERS MEET FOR FIRST TIME

Are United In Oklahoma Although Born In Russia

(International News Service)

SEMINOLE, Okla., June 26.—Two sisters, one 85 and the other 58, born in Russia met for the first time in their lives half way around the world from their birthplace.

The older of the two sisters, Mrs. Mary Frumhoff of St. Joseph, Mo., married at an early age and moved from her native hamlet in Northern Russia to the Black Sea region. The older sister never returned to the northern village.

The younger sister, Mrs. Julius Shannon, San Antonio, Tex., was born in the same little Russian town after the older sister had moved away. The younger sister was married in her native village and 35 years ago moved to America. Ten years later Mrs. Frumhoff and her husband emigrated to America.

Two sons of Mrs. Frumhoff, merchants here, arranged for the reunion, which was held at their homes.

Auto Accident Reports Reveal Varied Causes

Death Toll Is 706 In Five Months; 13,900 Injured

HARRISBURG, June 26.—During the first five months of the year, 706 persons died as the results of automobile accidents, according to reports received by the Bureau of Motor Vehicles. Of that number, 134 were children aged 14 years or less, 365 were in the age range 15 to 54 years, and 160 were 55 years or more. In 47 fatalities the age was not given.

The number reported injured was 13,900, of which 2631 were children. Total accidents of all kinds involving automobiles was 17,260. For the same period last year, total accidents numbered 17,545. In the five months' period, 10,254 collisions between automobiles were reported. Collisions with fixed objects were 1452.

Automobiles and railroad trains figured in 126 collisions. Collisions with street cars numbered 386. There were 143 collisions with bicycle riders and 120 with horse-drawn vehicles. Non-collision accidents numbered 844, and miscellaneous accidents reported were 22.

Pedestrians

Pedestrians were involved in 3913 accidents, of which 362 were fatal. The jay-walker figured in 1087 of these accidents. Of that number 102 had fatal endings. Pedestrians run down after coming from behind parked cars were in 661 accidents, 56 being fatal. Pedestrians who crossed at intersections against signals were reported in 427 accidents, 28 fatal, and 23 fatal and 436 non-fatal accidents were reported at intersections having no signals.

Accidents while getting on or off street cars numbered 37. Three were fatal. Two fatal and 13 non-fatal accidents were reported due to automobiles running down pedestrians standing on safety aisles. Accidents involving riding or hitching on vehicles were 58. Eleven were fatal. One man at work in the roadway was killed and 20 others injured.

Speed

Operators exceeding the speed limit were charged with 2506 accidents 51 being fatal. Those driving on the wrong side of the road caused 2030 accidents, 22 fatal. Not having the right of way was responsible for 1890 accidents. Fifteen were fatal. Cutting in caused 1086 crashes, 12 fatal; leaving the roadway, 143 fatal and 2264 non-fatal; passing on curve or hill, two fatal; 114 non-fatal; passing on wrong side, two fatal and 61 non-fatal. The driver who failed to signal caused 11 fatal and 962 non-fatal accidents, and the driver who passed a standing street car, one fatal and 45 non-fatal accidents. Six non-fatal accidents were due to automobiles running away minus operator.

Most of the accidents reported took place on State highways. These numbered 9694, with 454 fatal. Curves provided 70 fatal and 1772 non-fatal ones. Ninety-six happened on bridges. Six were fatal.

Of the drivers involved 26,605 were of the male sex and 1750 were women. The former were credited with 756 fatal accidents and the latter with 27. "Flaming youth," the operator under 18 years of age, was involved in 18 fatal accidents and 696 non-fatal ones, while 25 to 54 years was charged with 412 fatal ones and 16,124 non-fatal. Of the total operators in accidents, 23,710 reported driving experience of more than one year. Out-of-state drivers caused 870 accidents. Twenty-three were fatal.

With 3209 accidents, 133 of them fatal, Sunday led the days of the week in this respect. Saturday with 3134, 111 fatal was second, and Friday with 2312, 85 fatal, was third. The most dangerous driving hour continued to be 4 p. m. to 5 p. m. with 61 fatal and 1554 non-fatal accidents. From midnight to 1 a. m. 24 fatal, 451 non-fatal accidents were reported; 1 a. m. to 6 a. m., 83 fatal, 1011 non-fatal; 6 fatal accidents.

Ambridge Firemen Turn To Gardening

Between Fires, Firemen At Ambridge Will Work In Garden Patch

(International News Service)

AMBRIDGE, Pa., June 26. — Ambridge's fire department has gone in for gardening as a means of relaxation between alarms.

Chief A. G. Fisher and his assistant, William Kroll, planted the battalion's patch opposite the borough building.

String beans, tomatoes, and succulent onions will be objects of the smoke-eaters' concentration until harvest time. And, in their own language, they expect to gather a crop of "hot onions" and "flaming" tomatoes.

MAKE Strawberry Jam IN 12 MINUTES!

Follow this amazing short-boil way that reduces actual boiling time to one minute. Saves 2½¢ on every glass you make. Gives better tasting jam. Plenty of good fruit now on the market.

STRAWBERRY JAM . . . . delicious tasting, flavorful strawberry jam . . . made in less than 12 minutes! This is the season to make it.

Impossible as it seems, any woman can accomplish this now—no matter how limited her jam-making experience may have been. Certo and the Certo recipes make this magic possible!

With Certo, you see, only one minute's boiling is required. A few minutes to bring to a boil, add Certo, boil one minute . . . and your jam is done. In 12 minutes it is child's play to have it cooling in the window.

Because of the one-minute boil no fruit juice boils away! As a result you usually get half again more glasses from the same amount of fruit. Often you save 2½¢ on every glass.

And Certo eliminates the chance of costly failures. If you follow directions, your jam will have a fuller flavor and a daintier texture than you've ever known before.

Put up strawberry jam. Put up strawberry jelly, too. With Certo it is easy.

Certo is a pure fruit product—a concentrated fruit pectin. And pectin, you know, is the substance in fruits which makes jelly "jell." Certo is a product of General Foods Corporation. At all grocers.

Mrs. B. G. Fearnow, winner of 12 prizes, including 8 firsts at the 1930 Virginia State Fair, never took a prize with her jams and jellies until last year. "I used Certo for the first time last year. It made me a State Fair Winner"!

Under the Certo label you will find 93 recipes. Each has been carefully worked out for use with Certo. Please remember that in making jam and jelly every fruit is different. No one recipe can be made to fit them all. That is why we developed definite scientific recipes for each fruit. These 93 recipes are your absolute guarantee of perfect jams and jellies with any fruit you care to use.

Deer Become Menace To Forests In Penna.

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Pa., June 26.—Deer, in some sections of Pennsylvania, are getting so numerous they are becoming a menace to state forests and to themselves, according to field studies made by the state department of forests and waters. From 20 to 40 deer are plenty for each 1,000 acres of Pennsylvania forest, the studies indicate.

Forests of the state, it is pointed out, once abounded in big game but the problem of over-production was taken care of by predatory animals now vanquished, lack of hunting restrictions, forest fires and other natural causes. Forty years ago, a deer in its native haunts was rare in Pennsylvania.

Approves Permit For Water Plant

HARRISBURG, June 26.—Dr. Theodore B. Appel, Secretary of Health, has approved a permit for the construction of the first unit of a complete new filtration plant by the York Water Company at York. This unit which will have a capacity of 20,000,000 gallons daily, will be extended under the terms of the permit until a complete plant with a capacity of 28,000,000 gallons will be in existence. The present plant, with a rated capacity of 10,000,000 gallons daily, has at times been operated at a capacity of nearly twice that amount in order to supply the needs of the rapidly growing community. The new plant, will supply filtered water to the city of York, the boroughs of North York and West York, and to parts of Springgarden and West Manchester townships, York county.

The existing plant, soon to go out of commission, is one of the oldest installations in the State. Built in 1899, it was the thirteenth plant to be put in operation in Pennsylvania.

FIGHTING FOREST FIRES

(International News Service)

WINSTED, Conn., — Future forest fires in Connecticut may be as deadly as ever but at least the forest rangers will have some idea of how best to battle the flames. The state forestry department is using practical methods of training its men. The department started with a tract of thirty acres here, where next spring a pine grove is to be set out. The tract was set afire, and thirty men were turned loose under expert direction. Experiments of the sort will be held elsewhere in the state. The men are paid for their lessons.

DAIRYMEN ORGANIZE IN MASSACHUSETTS

(International News Service)

BOSTON, June 26.—A new organization comprised of Massachusetts dairymen has been formed in this state. Under the name of Bay State Dairymen's association, farmers are cooperating with similar organizations throughout New England for the betterment of the industry. Two representatives, selected by dairymen from each county of the state act as directors in the organization.

The decrease in "canned" dairy products consumed, and the increase in the use of fresh dairy products produced largely in New England, is an indication of the sound basis on which the dairy industry of New England stands, according to Dr. A. W. Gilbert, state commissioner of agriculture, and a supporter of the new organization.

Receipts of oleomargarine are only a little more than half what they were two years ago, and the receipts of condensed and evaporated milk have fallen off materially.

Local Man Has Pet Groundhog

Jimmy DiMuccio of 514 South Jefferson street has in his possession a three months old groundhog which he has tamed. Although young the animal is very smart.

"Chickie" as he is called has his own home right in the house. When he gets up he circles around Mr. DiMuccio's legs. This means that he is hungry. Mr. DiMuccio never bothers to open the milk bottle. Chickie takes care of that.

Just like a human being the groundhog will go out and play for a while and return home. Among the things that Chickie likes to do is to play with Mr. DiMuccio's dog. The animals get long splendidly. The groundhog likes lettuce and grass and often invades the garden to enjoy a meal of grass or lettuce.

Mr. DiMuccio stated that the groundhog was discovered in Osborne, Pa., only a few days after it was born. He has raised it on a milk bottle and tamed it. He contemplates keeping the groundhog. In the winter Mr. DiMuccio will leave Chickie out in the garden, he said.

Among the other notable feats Chickie can also whistle pretty notes.

Wheat Crop Of Kansas Expected To Show Yield

Biggest Crop Since 1914 Is Expected This Year

By WALT MALONE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WICHITA, Kas., June 26.—With the Grain Stabilization Corporation attitude toward the wheat pits over the country, conversation in this part of Kansas has turned to the possible price and the probable yield of wheat fields in the state.

It has been estimated by those conversant with the crop conditions over the entire wheat belt that Kansas will find itself with the largest yield of wheat in several years, some predicting that it will equal if not exceed the yield of 1914 when 180,000,000 bushels were poured into the markets of the world.

County farm agents, who have made a specialized local study of crop conditions, and railroad agricultural agents are unanimous in predicting that the crops should run from fifteen to twenty-five bushels to the acre, depending on the section of the state in which the fields are located.

Railroads are moving all avilable empty cars to care for the shipments of grain that are certain to be made when the harvest starts within a few weeks.

As to price, observers are not so optimistic. Immediately following the withdrawl of the support of the Grain Stabilization Corporation, wheat dropped to the lower 50's in Kansas City, the center of the grain activities in the Middle West.

The price began a steady climb of a fraction of a cent a day until it has reached the upper 50's, where it is expected to remain. Many predict that with the new crop thrown on the market in such quantities as it is reasonable to expect with the acreage of standing grain, the price will drop into the 40's. However, the predictions are discredited by most of the wheat growers.

Binders are now going into the fields in the Southern part of the state and the combines will follow, in the same section, within a few days.

Wheat growers have informed labor agencies over the country that there would be no need for influx of laborers to care for the crop, the combine having eliminated the necessity for large numbers of workers.

Negro Talent Wins Freedom

Exhibition Of Artistic Drawing Yields Only Reprimand

(International News Service)

CHESTER, Pa., June 26. — "Art for art's sake" may be only an esthetic theory, but are for freedom's sake is another matter—especially for John W. Tate, 21-year old negro.

Tate and three other negro youths were arrested following complaints from farmars that produce was being stolen from the rear of delivery trucks. Arraigned before Magistrate John Hand Tate was asked what he did for a living.

"I draws," he said.

"Is that so?" The magistrate responded, somewhat dubiously. "Well let's see you draw a picture of the corporal there."

Tate, delighted, sketched a few quick strokes with pencil upon a sheet of paper and showed the resultant drawing to hand.

Apparently the somewhat puzzled face of the officer was correctly represented. The magistrate commended the artist and sent him off with a reprimand. The others were held for further hearing.

Will Emphasize Health Progress

HARRISBURG, June 26.—J. Clarence Funk, chief of the bureau of public health education, State Health Department, announced today that the September-October issue of Pennsylvania's Health, the official bulletin of the department, will be devoted exclusively to the history and progress of the department in the last twenty-five years.

Funk explained that in view of the department having completed twenty-five years of service to the people of the Commonwealth this month, that Secretary of Health, Doctor Theodore B. Appel, was anxious for the people of Pennsylvania to receive a report of the Department's quarter century progress.

STOLEN GOODS ARE SECURED BY POLICE

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, June 26. — Frank J. Beran, police custodian, is seeking an owner for the contents of a surprise package that was sent to him. Written on the top of the package was—"This is stolen property. Return to owner." The package contained two diamond jeweled watches, six stickpins, two earrings, two pair of opera glasses of old make, and a silver drinking cup.

JUDGE SENTENCES WOMAN TO SCRUB

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, June 26.—Judge Leon Edelman sentenced Mrs. Mary Ferguson, 35, convicted of being intoxicated, to scrub the floor of his courtroom.

"But" butted Mrs. Ferguson tearfully, "I don't know how to scrub floors."

"It's time you learned," snapped the judge.

Mrs. Ferguson dragged out a scrubbing bucket and started to go to work, but wept so copiously and sobbed so vigorously while so doing that Judge Edelman relented and ordered her instead to dust off the court benches.

"You ought to know how to dust anyway," said the judge.

"I do" sniffed Mrs. Ferguson. She did.

Cat Companion Of Dog Is Missing

(International News Service)

EAST HAMPTON, Conn., June 20. —Paul O'Connor's fox terrior, Tiny, once with a circus, is disconsolate because his master's pet cat is missing. O'Connor, seeking the aid of Ellery Flood, the local dog warden, in finding the cat, relates how for two years the cat had given the dog a bath at nightfall, and then gone to sleep curled against the dog. More than that, O'Connor is a volunteer fireman who is called by phone when there's a fire at night, and the dog has always sensed the phone call just a second ahead, giving O'Connor a chance to get into action before the rest of his firemen mates.

Roll Up Your Sleeves

And be ready to go to work. President Hoover has made a master stroke in calling a recess for the payment of all war debts. It's going to give us all a breathing spell and a chance to recuperate financially, and we will be able to reach down in the old sock and find we're not broke.

Since we opened our market at 20 North Mill Street we have had our sleeves rolled up, digging around and watching for opportunities to buy provisions at prices that will save you money. And we are going to give you the advantage of our good fortune. This week our live poultry department is stocked with Rhode Island Reds, Buff Plymouth Rocks, Leghorns, broilers and yearlings, right from our mammoth brooder house out on the farm. They've had nothing to eat since they were hatched but oatmeal and buttermilk mash, and they're certainly fine. You can see your chicken alive, full of health and vigor. You pick 'em out and we dress 'em while you wait.

MY NEW YORK

By JAMES ASWELL

Central Press

NEW YORK, June 26.—Atlantic City is neither a tony Coney Island nor a Southampton without airs. It is a potpourri of all the resorts in the world, from Palm Beach through French Lick to Jaunles-Pins and Waikiki. But it is the only one whose roots are spiritually in New York. It is a New Yorker's dream of peace in carnival. . . .

Go by air. I did last Saturday, from Newark airport in one of the big Stinsons of the Ludington Line. The trip takes 65 minutes flying time and likely as not your pilot will be a war ace. The whole business is carried through with railroading exactitude—red and green lights below to signify "way clear" or "weather uncertain; come down for report."

If I give you the impression that flying for me is a humdrum and routine matter, I am bragging. My heart always vaults several feet during that thundering dash along the runway before the take-off. Still, the Ludington pilots will tell you that the outfit has never had an accident—and after all, the way to start a vacation is with pulse thrumming. It sets a pace.

The four-year-old who got aboard at Philly—son of Jack Sheehan, traffic manager of the line—who was a veteran air traveler and pretty blase over it all; he thought trains were more fun . . . . The dismal marsh country toward the sea, cut by long, straight roads . . . Atlantic City, the tall rim of ripe crust with breakers beyond . . .

The Haddon Hall hotel, curiously reminiscent of a Park Ave. apartment house . . . Waiters who carried trays on their heads to your room, tropic fashion, explaining that it was a rule of the house . . . The Atlantic City speakeasy run by a woman, whose assistant was a refined young girl . . . I mean refined . . . Didn't the thumb Vanity Fair between orders? . . . The different beach areas, frequented by distinct classes of people . . . the "For Rent" signs on 30 per cent of the houses in the residential section . . .

Discovery that the first two passengers to book seats via plane to Atlantic City women, at $100 each . . . Discovery that there are four regular air commuters, two from Camden to New York every morning and two from Washington . . . Discovery that some of the big hotels of Atlantic City are very virtuous; they prohibit use of recreation rooms on Sunday.

Having nothing better to do, they are arguing these days over "What is a gag?" I always thought a gag was any funny situation in a show That's wrong, I hear.

A gag, writes Edward Cline, a grand guy who used to be one of the Keystone Kop squad, "is concocted with a 'prop' and doesn't require a series of leap-up incidents to bring a laugh. If it is any good at all, the gag is a sure-fire laugh the moment it is executed—like socking a policeman on the back of the head with a horseshoe, or making potato chips with an electric fan.

"The funny situation, on the other hand, must be nursed along and built-up-to."

The Spirit Of The Cross

"Brass Tacks" On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believth in him should not perish, but have eternal life.

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL

The shadow of the cross falls over all of the lessons of the last three months covered by this review lesson. The quarter began with a lesson entitled, "Jesus Teaches Humility," in which He rebuked those who "chose out the chief seats" whenever they were bidden to a feast, and counselled rather a spirit of lowliness and humility. He commended to them the simplicity of a little child, saying, "Whosoever shall not receive the Kingdom of God as a little child, he shall in no wise enter therein."

This same lesson, the Prodigal Son" needed to learn. In perfect heartlessness he demanded of his father, "Give me the portion of goods that falleth to me." After he had squandered all in sin, he came to himself and repented and prepared to return to his father and say, "Make me as one of thy hired servants." This change from "give me" to "make me" marks the change produced by the spirit of the cross.

The trouble with the rich man who left Lazarus perish with hunger at his door was just this, that there was nothing of the spirit of the cross in his selfish life.

No True Spirit

The Pharisee whose prayer was a parade of capital "I's" knew nothing of the spirit of the cross in his exaltation of self and his contempt of others. The true spirit of the cross is found rather in the humility of the publication' prayer "God be merciful to me the sinner."

Zacchaeus, the publican, had little of the spirit of the cross in his life as a dishonest, grasping tax gatherer, intent only upon increasing his wealth. But when he met Christ and received Him into his home and heart there came a change as he said, "Lord, the half of my goods, I give to the poor; and if I have wrongfully exacted ought of any man, I restore fourfold."

The unfaithful steward who kept his pound laid up in a napkin, neglecting to put it to service for his master, likewise lacked the spirit of the cross, for the cross means service to the extent of investment of self and substance.

The spirit of the cross is clearly evident in the lowliness and humility of our Lord's triumphal entry into Jerusalem seated upon a donkey's colt. It was a strange combination of meekness and majesty, of kingliness and simplicity.

The Lord's Supper

The Lord's Supper carries with it the clear marks of the cross in the breaking of the bread and the pouring out of the cup, symbolizing the breaking of our Lord's body on the cross and the pouring out of his precious blood for the remission of our sins.

Gethsemane, too, has its value for us in the example of our Lord's acceptance of the cross as He prayed in the agony of bloody sweat. "Nevertheless, not my will but thine be done."

Calvary stands out in its glory as the place of the cross. As such it is the world's supreme revelation of selfless service and sacrificial love. "He was wounded for our transgressions, He was bruised for our iniquities—and with His stripes we are healed." The cross, by His death upon it, becomes the tree of life to us.

After the cross came the resurrection and ascension as God's approval and reward for the cross: "Wherefore God also hath highly exalted him."

Broken Back Is Turned To Advantage

(International News Service)

OSKALOOSA, Ia., June 26. — A broken back meant good fortune for Grant Dye.

Many years ago with a family of three children to support, a slide of slate buried Dye while he was working as a coal miner. His back was broken but not his spirit. He established himself as a shoemaker, although paralyzed from the waist down. Now his three children have received college educations: he has a neat estate built up: he is happy.

"Forget misfortune" is his advice to cripples, who come to him asking charity. "I'm lucky. If I'd stayed in the mines I probably never would have owned my home or given my boys a chance. It's a good thing my back was broken. I've done better since."

"NEWS" GETS LILIES

Mrs. F. E. Hanna, Northview avenue, grower of beautiful flowers, presented the business force of The News with an attractive bouquet of Madonna lilies, often called June lilies, today.

National Farm Outlook

By ARTHUR H. JENKINS
Editor, The Farm Journal
Written for Central Press

When President Hoover comes to pick two new members for the Federal Farm Board, he will quite likely go through his desk and get out the long list of people recommended for the job two years ago.

That would be the simplest thing to do, since the Department of Agriculture asked for suggestions when the board was first appointed, and enough names were proposed to set up a hundred farm boards. What more easy than to take the names that were highly recommended and favorably considered, but which didn't quite make the grade?

The president followed this system, I presume, when he appointed Sam H. Thompson to take Alexander Legge's place on the board. He now has two more vacancies, caused by the retirement of C. C. Teague of California and S. R. McKelvie of Nebraska—representing fruit production and grain growing, respectively.

Mr. Thompson was not a co-operative organization man. His prominence is due to his connection with the Farm Bureau Federation, of which he has been president for several years. In the same class is Louis R. Taber, president of the other great national farm organization, the National Grange. Possibly Mr. Taber will be appointed to one of the vacancies.

The Farm Board, however, is a body of a particular sort. Its dealings are with co-operative selling organizations, its first function is to promote co-operative sale of farm products in large units. Its original membership, therefore, consisted mostly of men with considerable practical experience in this particular field.

This makes it likely that the successors to Messrs. Teague and McKelvie will be co-operative organization men, supposing that good names still remain on Mr. Hoover's list.

The choice of a grain man is perhaps the hardest to make. The president found it so when the original board was selected, and Mr. McKelvie, a publisher and ex-governor of Nebraska, was the last to be appointed. He was not a professional grain man, although of course his knowledge of grain growing and grain selling was not to be sneezed at.

Considering that opposition to farm board activities and methods is strongest in the grain trade, it is doubly hard to find an individual with practical experience, a wide reputation, in sympathy with the co-operative idea, and still willing to take the position on the board that is only second to the chairman's for difficulty and controversy.

It is a job I wouldn't take, so probably it is just as well it will not be offered to me.

DOG CRIPPLES POWER

(International News Service)

PITTSTON, Pa., June 26.—Power lines of a telegraph company here went out of commission suddenly on a recent day. Investigating, employes found a dog dangling from the wires. The animal had toppled from an adjoining building, breaking his fall (and the wires) on the power lines.

TO EXHIBIT GARAGES

(International News Service)

BERLIN—The German building exhibition, which will include from May 9 to August 2 an international garage exhibition, which will be arranged by Professor George Mueller, Germany's leading authority in this field. The exhibition will be made up of a technical department dealing with theoretical questions, and an industrial exhibit including the building and conduct of garages, service to patrons, protection against fire, etc.

112 YEARS OLD

(International News Service)

PLACERVILLE, Cal.—A birth certificate received here from Dublin, Ireland, revealed that Edmund Cooper, former gold miner and now an inmate of the Eldorado county hospital, is 112 years old. When Cooper entered the hospital, he had partially lost his memory and said he thought he was about 85 years old. Edward Willard, superintendent of the hospital, obtained the church birth certificate, showing Cooper was born September 19, 1818.

Correct this sentence: "They try to pet and paw you," said the flapper, "when you haven't given them the slightest encouragement."

Invents Machine To "Think" For Man

California Professor Has Machine Which Outwits Man

(International News Service)

BERKELEY, Calif., June 26. — Prof. Derrick N. Lehmer, of the University of California mathematics department, is to construct a machine that will "think" thousands of times faster than man.

This machine, in which electricity and light work with exceedingly intricate gears, is designed to aid mathematicians in determining factors of numbers greater than 2,000,000,000 and in solution of problems involving factors of enormous numbers. The device is expected to make computations which in the past were virtually impossible.

A beam of light thrown against the machine strikes a sensitive photo-electric plate when the gears, set to determine the answer sought, all mesh. A counter recording the revolutions of the main gear shaft reveals a number from which the factor of the larger number is obtained at once.

There's no longer any reason why just because you wish to enjoy the health and pleasure benefits of life in your summer home, cottage or camp that you should be forced to suffer the annoyance and inconvenience of being without a modern white light. All of the comforts and convenience of a flood of beautiful mellow white light, like sunlight in quality is yours now with this new

Instant Light
KEROSENE
Mantle Lamp

You'll never miss electricity once you have enjoyed it. It supplies the one great missing link to real city home comforts in the country. Not only is Aladdin light bountious and beautiful but the Aladdin itself is modern in every way. Handsome in both finish and design and with a wealth of exquisite hand - decorated glass and parchment shades from which to choose. All styles, table, hanging, bracket, vase and floor lamps are available in a price range to suit every purse.

10 Big Features
A match and a minute is all it takes to light it. Burns common kerosene (coal oil) with 94% air—only 6% fuel. Gives a modern white light nearest to sunlight. Burns without smoke, noise, smell or trouble. Absolutely safe. Operates as simply as the old style lamp and runs for 50 hours on a gallon of oil. Tested by 83 leading Universities and Colleges and every claim verified. Approved by Fire Underwriters and Good Housekeeping Institute.

PILLS ARE OFTEN DANGEROUS

Most laxatives have to be taken in ever-increasing doses. Otherwise, they lose their power. The body needs roughage.

One of the most natural ways to obtain this roughage is by eating a delicious cereal: Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Read what Mr. Albert F. Parker of Massachusetts has to say:

"I am 52 years old and have put in years suffering from constipation. Bought all kinds of pills and drugged myself with them and awoke lots of mornings with a headache.

"Haven't taken one pill since I began on Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. I am now feeling the best I have felt in 20 years."

Two tablespoonfuls of ALL-BRAN daily are guaranteed to give relief. At your grocer's, in the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Presbyterian Synod To Meet In Grove City

Annual Meeting Of State Presbyterians To Be Held At College

GROVE CITY, June 26.—The 1932 session of the Presbyterian Synod of Pennsylvania will be held at Grove City College announced Dr. W. C. Ketler the college head today.

The acceptance follows an invitation extended by the president at the 1930 session of the Synod held at Easton the home of Lafayette College.

The session here will follow commencement and be the week of June 29th. It has been customary now for three years to hold the sessions each June. Selection is always made of some college of the denomination at which to convene. Grove City may consider herself very fortunate in the securing of this meeting. The Synod met here four years ago in the First Presbyterian church. A return to the same community within such a short space of time is very unusual. The Synod of Pennsylvania is largest of the denominations in the world.

UNION SERVICES

Five Sundays of union service are announced today by ministers for the college athletic field starting June 28th. During this time, pastors of the five co-ordinating churches, Presbyterian, Methodist, United Presbyterian, Baptist, Lutheran will preach.

AT SUMMER SCHOOL

Members of the faculty of Grove City College attending summer school at universities include: A. G. Woods, head of the department of biology who goes to University of Illinois, C. G. Hoyt, heading chemistry department at Pitt University, Esther Post, in charge of the physical education of women at the "Paul Smith Camp" at St. Regis, New York, Librarian Isabelle Forbes at Columbia University.

IS HEADMASTER

Dr. Morgan Barnes of the faculty of Thatcher School for boys has been named headmaster is the report at Grove City. The school is located at Ojai, California. The many years of residence here of the new "prexy" where he was an instructor on the faculty of Westminster and Grove City colleges makes the item of interest to many readers in Western Pennsylvania.

The election of Dr. Barnes follows retirement of S. D. Thatcher for three decades head of the school.

WINS CONTEST

Sara M. Carnahan won first in the oratorical contest at the Butler Presbyterial for young people of the United Presbyterian church held at Prospect of recent date. She spoke on "American Missions." Miss Carnahan is a local girl.

AWARD CONTRACT

Contract was let today to the R. B. McDanel Company of New Brighton for the erection of a three arch stone bridge connecting the old and new campus of Grove City College. The consideration is private. The stone will match that in the Memorial Chapel and is known as Briar Hill sand stone.

The span across Wolf creek is 90 feet in length. It will be a foot bridge 8 feet in width. Work starts at once.

Cleveland Police Probing Murder

Seek To Link Gangster Victim With Potter Slaying

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, June 26.—Police today sought to link the murder of Jack "Kibby" Langman, 28, close friend of "Pittsburgh Hymie" Martin, with the slaying of former Councilman William E. Potter.

Martin is serving a life sentence as the man who shot and killed Potter in an East Side Apartment in February. Langman's body was discovered in Moreland Heights Village yesterday.

He has been "taken for a ride." Two bullet holes perforated the back of his head, and he was thrown from an automobile into the street.

Geo. Washington Knew Dry Years, Letter Reveals

Writes Of Drouth Which Seriously Inconvenienced Him

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 26.—The recent devastating drought brought out the fact that George Washington went through a similar dry year in 1788, the bi-centennial commission to celebrate the 200th anniversary of the birth of our first President disclosed in a statement.

Washington wrote from Mount Vernon the following letter to a friend:

"Dear Sir: I am very sorry I have not yet been able to discharge my account with the James River Company, for the amount of which you presented me with an order.

"The almost total loss of my crop last year by the drought, which has obliged me to purchase upwards of eight hundred barrels of corn, and my other numerous and necessary demands for cash, when I find it impossible to obtain what is due to me by any means, have caused me more perplexity and given me more uneasiness than I ever experienced before from want of money. In addition of these disappointments which I have met with from those who are indebted to me, I have in my hand a number of indents and other securities, which I have received from time to time as the interest of some Continental loan-office certificates, which are in my possession."

Another letter dated August 17, 1799, further disclosed his trials with the drought:

"The drought has been so excessive on this estate that I have made no oats—and if it continues a few days longer I shall make no corn. I have cut little or no grass, and my meadows, at this time, are as bare as the pavements; of consequence no second crop can be expected. These things will compel me, I expect, to reduce the mouths that feed on my hay."

Senator Sheppard (D) of Texas, the largest agricultural state in the United States, remarked after reading these two letters:

"Doesn't that sound as if written last year? That last line in Washington's letter completes the parallel between his experience and the loss of our farmers who were compelled to sell their livestock for lack of the means to feed them."

Pioneer Tells Of Snakes Abundance

HARRISBURG, June 26.—That Pike county is famous for having a large number of rattlesnakes is substantiated by Fire Warden John B. Hobday, of Blooming Grove. Mr. Hobday, is 74 years old and settled in Pike county in 1865. In a report recently submitted of his early activities to Chief Forest Fire Warden George H. Wirt, of the Department of Forests and Waters, he cited an instance in which he killed 62 rattlesnakes in one day. He also said that shortly after he settled in Pike county he saw a heap of rattlesnakes in a den among the rocks that was fully four feet across and two-and-a half feet deep. Mr. Hobday is at present observer on the High Knob fire tower in Pike county.

Sportsmen Will Band Together

Greensburg Sportsmen Take Steps In Conservation Matters

(International News Service)

GREENSBURG, Pa., June 26.—First steps toward formation of a county-wide organization which will provide for unanimous action by the 31 sportsmen's groups in Westmoreland county in conservation matters have been taken with the establishment of a temporary organization representing the individual groups.

The county organization, according to its sponsors, will look out for the interests of sportsmen of the county, particularly in legislative matters, and act for the separate groups in all conservation matters of interest to the county. Decision to form the organization followed passage of several bills by the recent legislature of which the local sportsmen's associations disapproved.

Gluttinous Osprey Lands In Ship's Brig

(International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, June 26—Rescued at sea, but put in irons in order to prevent wholesale destruction of lives of others, and finally ending up in a cage at a zoo. This was the plight of a giant osprey which was found floundering in the Pacific Ocean between San Francisco and Honolulu by the crew of the Matson Freighter Mauna Alta.

The crew hauled the big bird from the water in an exhausted condition. It was quickly revived with hot milk and then appropriated a berth on the masthead.

"When the pangs of hunger set in, the bird began to circle the ship and pick up the little sea birds known to sailors as 'mother Carey's chickens'," said Capt. Bracas. "The gluttinous osprey devoured eight of these birds in one day.

"This was carrying charity too far—to save the life of one bird and witness the destruction of fifty others. So we climbed the mast one night, threw a blanket over the Osprey, and put him in irons on ship's fare until we made port."

Wild Turkeys Are Showing Increase

HARRISBURG, June 26.—Surveys made by the field officers of the Game Commission indicate that efforts to restock the woods of Pennsylvania with wild turkeys will be successful, according to C. A. Hiller, in charge of propagation for the Game Commission.

Stock raised at the wild turkey farm and released apparently has survived the winter and are now raising flocks of young ones, the officers reported. Officials are convinced that the wild strain in the turkeys raised in captivity is sufficient to prevent them from becoming domesticated.

Six hundred young turkeys have been hatched at the turkey farm so far this summer. An additional 2500 eggs will be hatched during the season.

Plan To Cut Down Century-Old Trees

(International News Service)

NORRISTOWN, Pa., June 26.—Nearly a century old, several trees in St. John's churchyard here will be razed as a safety measure, it was announced here by Rev. James M. Nible, rector of the church.

Decision to remove the trees came after recent storms tore many of the branches away and experts pronounced the trees a danger to pedestrians and motorists.

According to parish records, the trees were planted in 1839 by Rev. Nathan Stern, then rector of St. John's.

Timely Reminders Are Given Farmers

Timely hints on farm practices are given in the weekly bulletin issued by the School of Agriculture, Penn State College, as follows:

Renew Strawberry Bed—As soon as the picking season is over, work should be started in rejuvenating the strawberry bed. The first step is to remove the straw mulch by raking. Cultivation should follow immediately. An application of nitrogenous fertilizer then will stimulate new growth.

Stake Tall Flowers—To prevent damage by wind the taller flowers should be staked, say Penn State ornamental horticulturists. These stakes should be as inconspicuous as possible.

Plant Late Garden—Next month Chinese or celery cabbage can be planted for fall use. The last planting of corn can be made July 1 to 5. Sow late lettuce and endive. Beets and carrots for winter storage can be sown July 1. Beans for the fall crop also can be planted.

Control Broodiness—Hens may be broken of broodiness by removing them from the flock, placing them in a broody coop, and feeding a balanced ration.

When Paint Fails—Very often old coatings of paint fail to give adequate protection against weathering long before they flake noticeably. This is especially true of flat-grained boards of light weight, fine textured species that hold paint well.

Sow Cover Crops—Sod orchards which were plowed this spring should be reseeded now to a cover crop. Legumes, such as alfalfa, sweet clover, common clovers, soybeans, and vetches are preferable.

Fruit Thinning Pays—Thinning apples and peaches increases size of fruit, improves color, eliminates breakage, and reduces harvesting costs.

Spray Potato Bugs—To control Colorado potato beetle spray with 4 pounds of lead arsenate or 3 pounds of calcium arsenate in 100 gallons of bordeaux.

Pilot Flies Over City As Big Storm Clouds Gather Here

Apparently off his true course due to low-hanging clouds, and endeavoring to escape the fast approaching thunderstorm that invaded this area at about 3 o'clock this morning, a pilot was winging his way westward over New Castle shortly before the gigantic electrical displays in the sky marked the arrival of the storm.

The heavy dronning of the planes motor was heard by North Hill residents, and it is believed the pilot was hovering low over the city.

The identity of the craft and its pilot, and the result of the flight thru the district remained a mystery today, but he was probably a mail flier.

Youths Fined For Bathing In Nude

Hurl Insults At Women Passing Along Road Near Neshannock Narrows

Two youths, Harold Mathews and Robert McDermott, were fined $3 and costs by Mayor Gillespie this morning, when arraigned on a charge of bathing in the nude, at the Narrows in the Neshannock yesterday afternoon.

Two women complained to the police that they were driving up the avenue, when the youths appeared on the bank on the opposite side, exposing themselves and yelling insulting words across the creek at them. The police went up the east bank of the stream and were able to apprehend Mathews and McDermott, who were but two of a number of young men in the crowd.

The practice had been going on for some time, according to the report made to the police, and will not be tolerated.

School Board Awards Contract

Lumber Contract For Floors At Senior High Let Thursday

Meeting in a temperature that must have been flirting with 100 the members of the School Board sweltered their way through a short special meeting Thursday evening. The purpose of the meeting was to let the bids for lumber for repairs to the floor of the Senior High School gymnasium. The low bidder was J. Henry Kline and he received the bid at a price of $756.00. Other bidders were Citizens Lumber Company, $900, New Castle Lumber and Construction Company, $978, J. Clyde Gilfillan Lumber Company, $791. Bids for cement were asked but it was found that there would be no cement needed on the job, the present floors being in good shape. All cement bids were rejected.

S. G. Ligo, superintendent of Buildings and Grounds asked authority to purchase 100 gallons of varnish at a price of $2.13 per gallon for use in the schools. He was given the authority and also authority to purchase 400 additional gallons of paint at a price of $696 for work around the school buildings.

Mammoth New Dock To Be Used For Second Dirigible With Completion Of Navy's U. S. S. Akron

No. 5

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the fifth and last of a series of stories on the new navy dirigible, the U. S. S. Akron.)

By BONITA WITT
Central Press Staff Writer

AKRON, O., June 26.—Visitors to the great airship dock in which the first of the navy's fighting Zeppelins is now being completed are almost as interested in the huge building as in the big bag itself.

Bonita Witt

If you are one of those persons with a yen for statistics, we'll remind you that eight football games could be played simultaneously within its walls; 100,000 persons could congregate under its roof at one time; the airplane carriers Lexington and Saratoga could find berths in it, and the Washington monument and the Woolworth building could be laid inside and there still would be room to spare.

Some Statistics

It is approximately a semi-paraboloid (half an egg turned upside down) 1,175 feet long, 325 feet wide and 197 feet 6 inches high. It is the largest building in the world without interior supports.

Two great 600-ton doors are an unusual feature of the building. They resemble a huge orange peel. The doors are so designed that they will not create cross currents which may damage the airship as it is being walked out of the dock. These doors rest on wheel trucks and can be opened at a rate of 40 meet a minute or be slowed down to creeping speed.

Shortly after the completion of the hangar, in 1929, work on the U. S. S. Akron was started, on Nov. 7. A ring laying ceremony was held on that day, with Rear Admiral Moffett driving a golden rivet into the master ring. The ceremony was similar to that of a battleship keel laying.

In June, 1926, when the construction of two 6,500,000 cubic foot ships was authorized as a part of a five-year program of development, the question of construction arose. The navy was well equipped to build the dirigible since its engineers were familiar with both British and German construction methods and had been connected with the actual designing, building and flying of the Shenandoah. It was felt, however, that the United States should develop an airship building industry as one branch of industrial preparedness.

A design contest was instituted by the navy, outlining specifications as to strength, safety and the like. Thirty-seven designs were submitted and first prize was awarded to the Goodyear Zeppelin corporation. In October, 1928, the formal contract was let.

Approximately 800 workmen have been employed in building the airship. A small nucleus is composed of veterans who helped to build the ill-fated Shenandoah, in Germany, and the Los Angeles. Despite the hazardous nature of the work not a single casulty has occurred. One amusing sidelight on the unusual care taken to prevent accidents is the installation of guards on the 85-foot ladders. It is impossible to tumble backwards off the enclosed ladders, and they are made just-large enough to accommodate the workman's body. If he attempts to descend hurriedly when the whistle blows, the metal framework at his back slows his descent. Many broken ankles are thus avoided.

Commander Rosendahl was graduated from the Naval academy in 1914, saw service on destroyers during the World war and in 1923 enrolled in the lighter-than-air classes at the naval air station, Lakehurst, N. J. He was assigned to the Shenandoah and was on board as navigating officer during her fatal flight over the middle-west. When the Shenandoah broke into pieces over Ava, O., early in the morning on Sept. 3, 1925, Rosendahl's two senior officers, Commander Zachery Lansdowne and Lieutenant Commander L. Hancock were killed, and he was left in command of the ship. With the aid of the other survivors Rosendahl piloted his section of the ship to safety as a free balloon.

He was made executive officer of the Los Angeles in March, 1926, and a month later was made commanding officer.

Officers on Hand

A group of junior officers have already been assigned to the dock at Akron to familiarize themselves with the new fighting airship that all may be in readiness when the time comes for America's first lighter-than-air defender to make her maiden flight.

It perhaps is well at this point to add a word of warning to those who want to be on hand on that auspicious occasion. Better come to Akron prepared to stay a while. The departure of a dirigible is dependent on the weather. A flight scheduled for 10 o'clock in the morning may not take place until midnight, if weather conditions are adverse. In fact, the chances are that the first flights will be made at night, since weather conditions are more stable then.

So, Mr. and Mrs. Taxpayer, if you have an overwhelming curiosity to see the U. S. S. Akron walked out of her dock for the first time, bring your lunch, a blanket, and plenty of patience. Yes, a blanket, since the airport itself will be closed to visitors on flight days, and parking space around the four edges of the field will be at a premium.

Approve Machines To Protect Milk

HARRISBURG, June 26.—Secretary of Health Dr. Theodore B. Appel today announced that processes involving pasteurizing machinery manufactured by companies in Pennsylvania and in New York have received the approval of the Advisory Health Board. He explained that this action opens the way for those engaged in the pasteurization of milk to receive permits to treat their milk with the machinery necessary for such processes. He further explained that the new process involves high temperature short-time pasteurization and that permits for the use of this method upon proper application to the State Health Department will be approved.

Farmers Co-Operation Aids In Game Program

HARRISBURG, June 27—A covey of game birds is far more valuable to a farm than the tiny space in a hay or grain field where the young are being hatched.

That, in substance, was the argument advanced today by officials of the Game Commission in their annual plea asking farmers to help protect nesting or newly hatched game birds during the mowing season.

The flight of a harried mother bird at the approach of a mower or reaper is almost a sure indication that a nest of eggs or a covey of young birds is nearby, officials said. They believe that a bit of time spent in locating the nest or young birds will prove worthwhile.

Bob-white partridges and ring-neck pheasants become tame when living near civilization. Both are valuable in keeping down destructive insects, it was pointed out.

While the modern trend is toward cleared fence rows and few or no briar fields game rearing experts prefer the other type of farm as the ideal home for game.

In one authentic instance reported to the Commission in a southeastern county where ring-necks are plentiful 17 of their nests were destroyed during the mowing of one field. In two other fields on the same farm, 26 nests were despoiled.

Commission officials depend upon farmers for co-operation in carrying out much of their game propagation program and each year ask their aid in protecting young game birds and animals during the harvest season.

POLLY, AGED PARROT, FALLS HEIR TO MILLION

(International News Service)

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., June 26—Polly, an aged parrot which belonged to the late Miss Anna G. Burt, of St. Augustine, is worth a cool million dollars today.

Polly was named beneficiary for the remainder of its life under the terms of Miss Burt's will filed for probate here.

A CRATER OF GREAT BEAUTY —COPERNICUS

By Arthur DeV. Carpenter

There is a crater near the center of the moon's face famous for its beauty. It is a favorite object for lunar photographers. The name of it is Copernicus. This crater is 56 miles in diameter and its surrounding wall is crowned by at least 50 mountain peaks that under favorable conditions appear as a circle of pearls. The interior of the crater slopes off in magnificent terraces to the floor 10,896 feet below. Radiating from this crater are multitudes of light streaks called rills that form a sort of nimbus around the crater and extend far out over the lunar surface. They cross the Carpathian mountains and enter the Mare Imbrium to the north.

Lawrence County Has Small Decrease In Farms In Decade

Census Returns Show Loss Of 228 Farms Since 1920 Census Was Taken

Chicken Industry Gains, Dairying Continues On Even Keel, Records Show

Lawrence county farms decreased 228 in number during the last ten years, the 1930 farm census shows, far less than in the three surrounding counties of Beaver, Butler, and Mercer counties.

The loss has all been experienced in the last five years, a gain having been shown between 1920 and 1925, after which the number dropped off.

In 1920, there were 2,464 farms with an acreage of 186,097, the 1930 figures show 2,236 farms with an acreage of 163,388. The greatest decrease was shown in farms having between 100 and 175 acres in them. There was an increase in the number ranging between 10 and 20 acres, and a gain of 3 in the number under three acres.

In 1920, there were four farms having an acreage of between 500 and 1,000 acres. In 1930, there were none. Some of the acreage was undoubtedly lost in plots which were sub-divided for small homes along the main highways.

The loss in value of land and buildings for farm purposes totalled $2,116,078, a gain being shown in the value of farm buildings, amounting to $636,000.

Tenants Less

In 1920, there were 2,033 farms operated by owners, which had shrunk to 1,993 in 1930. There were 40 farms with managers in 1920 which number had decreased to 28 in 1930, while the number of farms operated by tenants decreased from 391 in 1920 to 215 in 1930, wherein the greatest loss was shown.

The value in implements and farm machinery dropped off $162,000.

The average value of land and buildings per farm was $7,207 in 1920, while the average value per farm in 1930 was $6,995. The average value per acre in 1920 was $95.43, while the value in 1930 was $95.73, an increase of 40 cents per acre.

Half As Many Horses

There were 6,738 horses on Lawrence county farms in 1920, and but 3,812 in 1930, showing the inroad made by modern farm machinery, particularly tractors. The number of mules shrank from 204 to 137, and cattle of all kinds from 19,122 to 18,605. The decrease in milk cows was slight, falling from 10,717 to 10,414. Hogs fell off from 11,419 to 3,402, but chickens showed an increase from 139, 843 to 155,113.

No figures were taken in 1920 showing the idle acreage, but the amount in 1925 was 12,627 acres, which had increased to 14,465 acres in 1930.

Final Meeting Of Grand Auxiliary

No More Meetings Of G. I. A. Until Fall; Make Plans For July Picnic

Thursday afternoon's meeting of the Grand International auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers was the final one of the summer. It was very well attended and before the meeting was ended plans were completed for the annual picnic of the organization to be held at Cascade park. The date will not be set until the date of the E. & A. division picnic has been decided. The auxiliary wishes to have its annual event on the same day. A committee to have charge of arrangements was appointed.

Dinner preceded the meeting, served at noon. The business meeting was commenced at 2 o'clock and lasted but a short time. Mrs. Cora Kelley was in charge. It was decided to have the first meeting of the fall on Thursday, September 10.

Repair Work On Drinking Fountain

City Workmen Making Concrete Base On Top Of Water Pipes

It will be a matter of but a few days until the drinking fountain at the corner of North Liberty street and Wabash avenue, will be in working order.

On Thursday afternoon workmen commenced the job of making a concrete base at the water pipes beneath the fountain, on which the cakes of ice may be dropped without breaking the pipes.

The concrete and brick work is being done today and when completed the fountain will be turned on.

CEREMONY STARTS

Forty hours devotion was commenced this morning at St. Lucy's Italian church, with many worshippers participating and will continue through Sunday. It opened this morning at 8 o'clock with Solemn High Mass.

Special services will be held this evening and Saturday evening at 7:30, and the Sunday evening service will take place at 8 o'clock.

HERE ON THURSDAY

Ralph Morley, William T. Grant, and P. T. Wallace, of Cleveland, O., and Edwin E. Taylor, of Pittsburgh, were business visitors in seventh ward on Thursday afternoon.

Father Keating At Beaver, Pa.

Of interest to local people is the fact that Rev. Fr. Joseph Keating, former pastor of St. Margaret's church, has been transferred from his charge at Mars, Pa., to Beaver Pa. He will be pastor of the St. Peter and Paul church at Beaver.

Rev. Fr. Keating was pastor of St. Margaret's until he was transferred to Mars and Rev. Fr. A. P. Scholz came to the local church.

Wilson Lodge Has Meeting Last Night

Auxiliary Plans Breakfast Picnic At Cascade Park Next Wednesday Morning

Mabel Wilson lodge members, composing an auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, met last evening at Malta hall for their regular business and social gathering. They made plans for a breakfast to be held at Cascade Park Wednesday morning, July 1, at 9 o'clock. The meeting was well attended. Members bring their own table service to the picnic Wednesday.

The railroad convention, in Denver, Colorado, which is being attended by Mrs. E. M. Johnston and her mother, Mrs. McCombs, ends Saturday. The delegates and her mother will probably not be home for another week, though.

M. E. G. Picnic

Fifteen members of the M. E. G. Auxiliary of the Mahoningtown Presbyterian church attended the picnic given at Cascade Park last evening. Dinner was served at about seven o'clock. The evening proved very enjoyable for those in attendance.

AUXILIARY DAY

Thursday was Auxiliary Day at Camp Friendship, near Rimersburg, where Mrs. D. D. Sleppy, wife of the pastor of the Mahoning Methodist church, is instructing girls of the Erie conference in "Methods" classes. It was an open day when all friends and mothers of the campers were invited to come and spend the day.

CLUB MEETING

Mrs. C. L. Lutton, of East Clayton street, will entertain her associate members of the newly organized F. O. L. Club this evening.

MOVING HERE

Dr. E. W. Wilmarth, of New Castle, an interne at the Jameson Memorial hospital, will make his home on North Liberty street, near the corner of Madison avenue.

BACK ON TUESDAY

Mrs. David Daye Sleppy, of Newell avenue, who is a member of the staff at Camp Friendship, near Rimersburg, will return to this city on Tuesday of next week. The camp is the Erie Conference Camp of Foreign Missions and Leadership Training.

RETURNS TO OHIO

VISITING RELATIVES

E. A. Senheiser, of McConnellsville, is the guest of relatives in Mahoningtown, for a few days.

LODGE FOR SUMMER

Mr. and Mrs. John McMillin, of North Liberty street, have moved to their summer place, Hickory Creek Lodge, near Flat Rock, for the summer months.

RETURNS TO WARD

C. H. Keniston, of 103 Milton street, has returned to his work in seventh ward, after a several days stay with his sister, Mrs. George Bently, at Mayville, N. Y.

IS IN HOSPITAL

Mrs. G. J. Shellog, of Chartres street, mother of George Shellog of the seventh ward fire department, has been removed to the New Castle hospital for treatment.

IN VIRGINIA

Walter Stone and Paul Bender, of seventh ward, will return Saturday or Sunday from West Virginia, where they have been staying for several days.

SNAPPING TURTLE

Charles Barnhart and I. W. Taylor, Sr., caught a snapping turtle near Pulaski recently, weighing 23 pounds and 7 ounces. They brought the turtle back to Mahoningtown and in a short time he was turned into several bowls of soup.

VISIT HOSPITAL

Among the friends coming to the New Castle hospital to visit Mrs. G. J. Shellog, who is a patient there, is Mrs. I. A. Hartman and son, of Pittsburgh.

CARD PARTY

High scores at the June Festival card party held Thursday evening at Lyceum hall were won by the following players: euchre, William Avery, Sr.; 500, Mrs. H. W. Calvert; and bingo, James Ronan. The evening proved most enjoyable.

TEST ARCTIC RADIO

(International News Service)

NEW YORK—Sir Hubert Wilkins has tested the radio he will use to keep in communication with civilization from his projected exploration trip in a submarine under the Arctic ice cap, and found the set in perfect order. He communicated from his undersea ship with his wife in a New York office. Sir Hubert will have to bore a hole up through the ice in the Arctic to set up his antenna.

TO ABANDON SERVICE

(International News Service)

SCRANTON, Pa., June 26.—Trolley service between Scranton and Factoryville, in the Abingtons, will be abandoned July 5 by the Scranton, Montrose, Binghamton railway. Bus service will replace the trolleys, operated for more than a quarter of a century.

ENDED HEALTH ILLS

"Since taking Ten Herbs, I feel like my old self again," said Mrs. C. E. Fiscus, 507 N. Elm St., Butler, Pa. "I suffered with indigestion and could not eat many things I liked, because of the misery that would

BLIND SWIMMER RESCUES YOUTH

WAYNESBURG, Pa., June 26.—Guided only by the shouts of spectators, Richard Brooks, 28, Greensboro, who is totally blind, swam to the side of a 10-year-old boy who was struggling in deep water in the Monongahela river and brought him to shore.

Brooks, an expert swimmer, heard the cries of the boy, James Davis, 10, who had gone down for the second time. As he swam into the river spectators shouted directions to him.

Pinchot Signs Township Bill

New Code Established For First Class Townships By Peters Bill

REED BILL IS NOT APPROVED

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, June 26.—A new code for first class townships was ready for the statute books today with approval of Governor Pinchot of a bill sponsored by Rep. Frederick Peters, Montgomery, while disapproving the first class township bill introduced by Rep. George Reed, Dauphin.

Under Peters' bill, the former code under which both first and second class townships operated is repealed insofar as it concerns the former but it will still apply to second class townships. The first class township code gives to township commissioners wider powers for adoption of ordinances, permits the selection of a certified accountant to replace the township auditor if courts approve and makes several minor changes in the former code. The bill was approved by associations of township commissioners when it was before the assembly.

Reed Bill Vetoed.

In vetoing the Reed bill the governor said it contained many commendable features but based his objection to it on a section which eliminated necessity of the state highway department approving purchases of material for road construction and improvement.

Approval was given a bill by Rep. Henderson, Fayette ,appropriating $25,000 for the purchase of Fort Necessity park in Fayette county, site of the first engagement in which George Washington took part in the French and Indian wars.

The governor vetoed a bill by Rep. Clinton Sowers, Philadelphia, providing magistrates must ask defendants in cases where the latter are unable to provide bail for the names of two persons they wish notified as to the time of trial. Aimed at correcting a situation prevalent in Philadelphia, the governor said, the measure would not take care of the situation.

Also vetoed was a bill by Rep. Wheeler, Forest, appropriating $1,000,000 for borough streets not on the state road plan; one by Rep. Denman, Westmoreland, entitling widows to four months free use of domiciles after death of the husband; and one by Senator Sordoni, Luzerne, permitting county commissioners to appropriate money to assist corporations or individuals to operate airports and landing fields fifty-two per cent of the price motorists pay for gasoline.

On the basis of the report received from the A. A. A. National Headquarters, Mr. Bolsinger said that the average retail price of gasoline on March 1st, 1931 was 14.46 cents per gallon, or 13.79 cents below the average retail price of 48.25 cents per gallon in effect on March 1st, 1921, a decline of 48.3 per cent.

"During the same period" he continued, "the average gasoline tax rate increased from less than one cent per gallon, .0014 as of March 1st 1931 to 3.86 cents per gallon on March 1st, 1931, a gain of 2.657 per cent. In 1921 only sixteen States were taxing gasoline. Today all State and the District of Columbia impose the levy."

The A. A. A. Club executives listed in eight States which have already increased gasoline taxes during the current sessions of the Legislature, and the amount of the increase, as follows:

Arizona, four to five cents: Arkansas, five to six cents, Massachusettes, two to three cents: North Carolina, five to six cents: North Dakota, three to four cents: Oklahoma, four to five cents: Washington, three to five cents and Wisconsin, two to four cents.

Of course, you want to avoid accidents, but—The operator of every mot or vehicle involved in an accident resulting in injury or death to any person or in property damage to an apparent extent of $50.00 or more must report the accident within twenty-four hours to the Bureau of Motor Vehicles, Harrisburg, Pa.

WHEN IN DOUBT—FILE A REPORT

On injuring the person, or property of any person, immediately STOP at the scene: give name, address and registration number of vehicle: exhibit operator's license to the person struck or the driver or other occupants of vehicle collided with: render reasonable assistance to any injured person, convey to a physician when it is requested or when it is apparent that medical treatment is necessary.

SEE PENNSYLVANIA FIRST—IT HAS EVERYTHING

KEEP TO THE RIGHT

Not only the law, but good judgement dictates that you drive on the right-hand side of the highway. Remember this particularly where the white lines are painted on the surface—they indicate the approach to a traffic hazard.

Near some of the larger centers of population, in order to promote safety and faster moving traffic, the Department of Highways has constructed roads of more than two traffic lanes.

So as to obtain the highest traffic capacity on these roads, all motorists should drive to the right, using the center lanes for passing only.

PLAY SAFE AND BE SAFE

If in doubt as to any law or regulation governing the registration and operation of motor vehicles communicate with the Department of Revenues, Bureau of Motor Vehicles, Harrisburg, Pa.

Your registration plates can be lifted, and your car ruled off the highways, if the equipment is defective. GOOD. BRAKES. WILL PREVENT MANY ACCIDENTS. THREE FACTORS CONTRIBUTE TO ACCIDENTS.

GOODY!

New Castle is paving many streets this year. That will aid considerably in eliminating the heavy traffic on the down town business streets. Now let's fill some of the holes in streets that are designated as main highways, and help the traffifc move in complete safety.

Open Bids For New Sidewalks

Scott Street Sidewalk Bids Are Sent To City Engineer's Office

Bids for the construction of several sidewalks in Scott street were opened when city council met today in the municipal building.

The bids were sent to the city engineer for checking, report and recommendation.

Bidders follow:

J. C. Gilfillan Lumber company, Leslie property, 43 cents per square foot; Finnigan property, 17 cents per square foot; E. E. Marshall property, 19 cents per square foot; Ed. Marshall property, 18½ cents per square foot; E. E. and W. J. Marshall property, 17 cents per square foot; George Rogers property, 31 cents per square foot and D. O. Martin property, 22 cents per square foot.

George W. Lusk presented a bid of 15 cents per square foot but neglected to include a certified check as called for by law and the bid was not received.

Mrs. Leslie and Ed. Marshall objected to the construction of the sidewalks stating the street in front of where the property is, is in a poor condition and that sidewalks are not necessary.

Asylum Inmate To Be Taken On Long Trip To Roumania

During Lucid Moments Expresses Wish To Go Back To His Mother And Friends

Petition for release of Martin Schuster from Dixmont Asylum in order that he may be taken to the home of his mother in Scharosch, Roumania, was presented to Judge Hildebrand at court this morning by a cousin, John Schuller.

The petition set forth that during the latter part of May, 1931, Schuster had been committed to Dixmont following a recommendation of a commission.

During lucid times he has expressed a desire to return to his home in Roumania. It has been learned that Andrew Homm, a fellow countryman, is preparing to go to Roumania about June 30. He has expressed a willingness to take Schuster with him and look after him during the trip, provided Schuster's expenses are paid and $100 is given Homm for his trouble.

The expenses are estimated at $173.22 for car and ship fare and $16.78 for boarding. Schuster has $190 due him as sick benefits from Shenango works, American Sheet and Tin Plate Company, and also a policy for $1000 in the Missouri Life Insurance Company.

As money due him cannot be obtained before June 30, the court was asked to direct that the county commissioners advance the money. A letter was also presented from H. A. Hutchison, Superintendent of Dixmont, saying that in his opinion, it would be safe to take Schuster, provided he was looked after carefully.

Judge Hildebrand made an order authorizing the county commissioners to issue a warrant to the Peoples Savings and Trust Company for the expenses, said money to be returned to the county from the estate of Schuster.

The transfer is advantageous to the county as it will obviate the necessity of any further trouble or expense in connection with the case.

INSTALLMENT BABIES

CLEVELAND—Three local hospitals have begun installment plans for babies. The rate of payment is two dollars down six months before the baby is born and two and a half dollars each week. The plan was adopted from a similar one in Chicago.

Sparks From New Castle Motor Club

GAS TAX INCREASES IN EIGHT STATES TO COST CAR OWNERS $30,000,000

Increases in the gasoline tax rates by eight states during the current sessions of legislatures will cost car owners $30,000,000 annually in additional taxes, according to Ralph W. Bolsinger, president of the New Castle Motor Club, which is affiliated with the American Automobile Association.

In citing this further pyramiding of the gasoline tax Mr. Bolsinger pointed out that a recent survey of the cost of gasoline in fifty representative cities showed that while the average retail price of the fuel has decreased forty-eight per cent in the past ten years, the average gasoline tax rate has increased more than 2,650 per cent in the same period. He added that the tax now amounts to from thirteen to

Blames Police Dogs For Damage

HARRISBURG, June 27—"Reports and information received from dog law enforcement agents show that the so-called 'police dog' when allowed to run at large is a serious menace to property and citizens of the commonwealth," officials of the bureau of animal industry of the Department of Agriculture said in a statement issued today.

"Reports of people being bitten by dogs show that this type of dog is responsible in a relatively large number of instances and such cases seem to be increasing.

"Investigation by bureau agents, of damages caused to livestock and poultry by dogs, indicates that the uncontrolled 'police dog' is one of the worst offenders. The damages caused to livestock and poultry by this type of dog apparently are increasing.

"The bureau is interested in all breeds of dogs and not prejudiced against any one particular breed. However, conditions have become such, in-so-far as the so-called 'police dogs' are concerned, that it is the duty of the bureau to call the attention of the public to the danger from such dogs when allowed to run at large.

"A properly trained and carefully controlled 'police dog' in the hands of a careful owner may become a valuable pet and companion. However, unless the prospective owner of such a dog expects to train and keep close control of his dog, he should give careful thought to the matter before assuming ownership. Dog owners are liable for any damage their dogs may do.

"Unless owners of 'police dogs' keep their animals under better control and recognize the danger of such dogs running without restraint, recommendations to the next general assembly covering this question may be necessary."

LOOKING BACK

IN NEW CASTLE

Turkeys are so scarce in this section of the country at the present time that it would be rather hard to conceive of the scene that was witnessed by a resident of the city, some sixty-five years ago as a boy. In those days it was not an infrequent sight to see large numbers of turkeys, often as many as three hundred, being driven along the roads and through the streets of the city to the larger markets in the east. Most of these turkeys in charge of several persons were driven on foot to Philadelphia, it being necessary to cross the Allegheny mountains in order to get them to their destination. A peculiarity of the turkeys was the fact that when it came their regular roosting time in the evening, they would make for the first wooded place they came to and where they would stay for the night, and those in charge knew better than to make any attempt to make them go any further. In those days large numbers of cattle, sheep and hogs were driven overland from this district in the same way, but the market for these animals was for the most part Pittsburgh.

Tomorrow—When the Sheep Hill district was the center of Lawrence county's limestone industry.

Welsh News

By WILLIAMS A. JOHNS)
Brython

The Emmanuel Baptist Church members have taken action whereby there will not be any services on next Sunday evening, June 28. Instead they will join in a body with the First Congregational church to give a royal send off to the pastor, Rev. Rees T. Williams on his departure for a trip back to Wales. Next Sunday evening will be the last opportunity for his friends to hear him.

He will visit his mother in Bangor, North Wales. While there he will also attend the great festival of the Welsh people the National Eisteddfod of Wales which occurs in August at Bangor.

Mrs. Evans of Ellwood City visited our city this week.

The convention of the Welsh Women's Club of America is being held this week in Pittsburgh. One of the speakers is Senator James J. Davies.

A letter came to hand this week from the Secretary Robert R. Williams in which he states that the annual convention of the Ivorites will take place in New York City in August. Many members from the Star of Wales Lodge are planning to attend. The grand president Evan Hopkins, Sheridan avenue a delegate from the Martha Lodge and the delegate from the Star of Wales lodge and Joseph Leyde of Neshannock avenue will attend.

A letter came to hand this week from Mrs. John Evans of Warren, Ohio in which she states that her brother Tom Richards is rather ill at the present.

Mrs. James Price of New York is spending some time with friends and relatives in this city.

NEW AIR FREIGHT PLANE EXHIBITED

(International News Service)

BERLIN, June 26—The "Ju-52" a new Junkers, all metal, low wing, cantilever freight plane, was demonstrated recently at the Berlin-Tempelhofer airport. The plane is equipped with a 685 horsepower B. M. W. VII A. U. water-cooled engine, though it may be equipped with other water-cooled or air-cooled geared engines of from 700 to 1,000 horsepower. It has been estimated that without intermediate stops this plane could fly the Berlin-London route, a distance of 559.3 miles in 5.5 hours with a payload of 4,774 pounds.

The kitchen faucet would be a helpful watering place too, if people would drink as much as they do at a high priced resort.

Hagenbeck-Wallace Claim Funniest Clowns

What the newspaper critics say is the funnest collection of clowns before the public will be in evidence when the Hagenbeck-Wallace Circus stages two exhibitions here on Tuesday, July 7. The management of this noted circus realizes that fun is the spice of life and signed only "Joeys" that have reputations as the best gloom-chasers in America.

Prominent among the funsters will be Earl Shipley and Otto Greibling. These two "Merry Andrews" will be assisted by 50 of the white-faced boys and they will appear in many laughable skits and stunts during the lengthy program.

Hagenbeck-Wallace will bring a number of features including "The Great Wilno," who is actually shot through space with violent velocity from the mouth of a huge cannon. Among the other important displays will be Clyde Beatty with his 34 lions and tigers, the Famous Hanneford Family with Poodles, greatest of all riding clowns; the Montmarte Troupe of acrobats and "The Golden Orient," a spectacular presentation of old Japan.

French Deputies Approve Sum For Defense Purposes

(International News Service)

PARIS, June 26.—By a vote of 430 to 155, the French chamber of deputies today passed a bill organizing the country's defense fortifications at a cost of 2,500,000,000 francs ($100,000,000). Credits for the appropriation were provided for in the 1930-1931 budget.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Barber, a recent bride and groom, have returned to their home here. The Barbers surprised them Saturday night and they were surprised by the Dights on Monday night. Light refreshments were served and a good time was enjoyed both evenings.

RETIRED STEEL OFFICIAL DIES

PITTSBURGH, Pa., June 26.—I. Walter Jenks, 73, who retired as general manager of the bar and hoop department of the Carnegie Steel Company last year after holding that position since 1901, died yesterday in his home, 1250 Beechwood boulevard. He was active in the steel industry in Pittsburgh for many years, and was a member of the American Iron and Steel Institute.

Wind Storm

Windstorms are not confined to any certain section of the country. Recent damage in widely separated parts gives evidence of the fact that high winds are not respecters of locality.

Demolished windows, blown-down chimneys and porches, uprooted trees—all are likely to cause secondary damage during a storm.

Windstorm Insurance is not expensive and it saves a lot of worry. We can provide you with a policy that can be depended upon when the emergency comes at a very small cost.

We can tell you more about this type of protection and will gladly do so at your convenience.

Honor Seven At Court Of Honor

Early-Summer Award Ceremony At Church Here—McCurdy Presides

Seven Boy Scouts appeared before the June court of honor for New Castle district scouts in the First Christian church last night, and were presented their awards by H. L. McCurdy, chairman of the troop 10 committee, who acted for Rev. G. E. Bennett last night. Robert L. Moore, Bill Shira and Russell Gustafson of troop 17, Edwin Harper of troop 18 and Clare Hanna, William Bilger, and Ed Schlossberg of troop 55 were on hand, and received from one to four merit badges apiece; two scouts having qualified for one of the new rural merit badges;—farm layout and building management.

The following named scouts are asked to present themselves at Camp Phillips next Friday evening, July 3, to receive badges which were not presented last night: Norman Baxter, Norris Baxter, Steve Schuster, Tom Cross and Kenneth Patterson of troop 21; Ed Schlossberg of troop 55; Yom Ca William Shiner, Ken Heminger, Jerome Dodds and Bob Johnson of 55, William Powell of troop 17 and Walter Schuler of troop 6.

Class Tourney At Links Last Night

Twenty-one members of the Men's Bible class of the First M. E. church participated last night in a golf tournament among the members at the Castle Hills course.

E. B. Hawkins, John Offutt and Walter S. Reynolds had the lowest individual scores. Hawkins had a 43 and Offutt and Reynolds both registered a 45.

Burglar Alarm Sounds In Boro

New Wilmington Has Unusual Excitement During Storm This Morning

Sleep was on a falling market in New Wilmington early this morning. Citizens who haven't heard the clock strike one, two or three in the morning since the Armistice was signed, were up, trusty guns were dragged out of moth balls, and for a little while the usually peaceful village bristled with war-like activities.

The burglar alarm on the Main Street was the cause of it all. During the heavy storm the wires got crossed, it is thought, and the alarm clanged out like the bell on the fire chief's car.

The alarm galvanized the village into action. Jumping out of bed citizens grabbed a gun with one hand and a pair of pants in the other and dashing out towards Main street.

It was all a mistake. There were no bandits, and after reconnoitering the ground thoroughly, the New Wilmington citizens went back to their beds.

Arrest Youth Who Impersonated Cop

Impromptu Traffic Director Is Arrested On East Washington Street

Joe O'Rourke, who was having a great time directing traffic at the intersection of East Washington St. and West avenue and having considerable fun at the expense of hapless motorists, happened to be pulling off his little act at the wrong time last evening, and as a result, spent the night in the city lockup.

Officer Syling happened to be on his way to report in for duty about 10:25 when he noticed O'Rourke blowing a whistle and stopping motorists. O'Rourke and a crowd of companions were having a great amount of fun during the act, but the hilarity stopped abruptly when O'Rourke was taken into custody.

He was reprimanded by the mayor this morning, and was informed that the conduct of the crowd which has been loafing around in front of Thompson's store at this point will not be tolerated any longer. Considerable complaint has been made to the police of their actions, women having been insulted, and their conduct at all times being very annoying to passersby.

Property Owners Liable For Curb

Council Introduces New Ordinance Dealing With Curb Today

When council convened formally in city hall today an ordinance was introduced which provides that property-owners are liable for the construction and maintenance of a granite curb along the cartway. When the city constructs the curb the abutting property-owner will be subject to assessment, according to the bill.

The bill further provides that whenever it is necessary to change the location or grading of the curb ne along the cartway in a street or to repair or reset any such curbstone in the judgment and discretion of the council, the abutting property owners shall be liable for the payment of such relocating in front of their respective properties and the same shall be assessed against the properties.

Seven Battles Here Tonight

Fourteen Boxers Await Bell To Usher In Four Round Scraps

FIRST BOUT AT BOWL STARTS AT 9 P. M. D. S.

Fans with a penchant for slugging should see plenty of punch displayed when 14 of the most promising sons of pugilism exchange blows in seven four-round battles tonight at the Castle bowl. Owing to the prominence of the 14 boys in their respective sections of the city each will have a big following at the ringside. The bouts will start at 9 o'clock fast time.

Tonight's all-local fistic carnival is the first of its kind attempted here and should it prove a success it is probably that the winners of bouts tonight will be matched against aggregations from Youngstown, Akron, Sharon, Aliquippa, Pittsburgh and Cleveland. Challenges have already been sent here and the boys who fight tonight are anxious to win the awards.

The idea of an all-New Castle carnival was conceived several weeks ago and 25 boxers entered their names. After they had filed their entires they were matched as equally as possible according to ability and weight. Judging from the rivalry displayed by the different fighters and the expectancy of the fans the pugilistic whirligig tonight should prove a "knockout"

There are many good prospects scheduled for action. For instance, the Ray Ritchie-Young DiMuccio four-round scrap. They battle like old-timers. They don't know what stall means and each carries a punch. The last time they fought Ritchie broke a hand and DiMuccio received a fractured rib.

And as a second illustration here's Homer Gray, the pride of Grant street, opposed to Bill Donnelli, a puncher from the south side. Gray has won from Nick Adamo by a "kayo" and Jack White by decision. "I'll punch Gray to sleep tonight," is the confidential statement of Donnelli, a rugged battler.

Every Boxer Confident.

Another four-round bout that looks like the "berries" will be fought by Willie Stribling and Ollie Pollard. Stribling is a favorite. Pollard has a husky frame, likes to exchange blows and wants to steal Willie's thunder. There is a lot of interest in their four-round clash.

Walter West may have a little experience on Vito Mangine but what Vito lacks in cunning he will make up in aggressiveness. He is tough, rugged, goes right after his opponent and as Walter hasn't fought in several weeks he may find the going tough while Vito is in front of him.

Kid Wright has never fought before but he has walloped boys who have been in gymnasiums and he got the chance he pined for when he selected Billy Frengel as his opponent. Frengel lost his last fight due to weight-making, he claims. Tonight he will be strong at 142 and Wright will be equally as strong, he says.

Elmer Badger has fought in Akron, Youngstown and this city and will meet Nick Testa. The latter will carry a few pounds of weight in excess of that which will grace Badger's frame. They are not clever. Rather they are sluggers and it looks as though someone will be knocked out in this setto.

Merle Gibson took in a lot of territory when he challenged Frankie Frey, the middleweight, but if he can weave and swing his arms like he did against Testa he may cause Frankie anxious moments. Gibson is taller than Frankie and intends to use his long arms to the best advantage he can.

Ed Fritz, matchmaker at the bowl, said today: "There are no champions or high-falutin' boxers on this card. Every boy in from New Castle. They were matched according to ability and weight as best as possible. The order in which they appear means nothing. They all receive the same size purse."

Order of Bouts.

The list of bouts and order in which they will enter the ring follows:

Nick Testa vs Elmer Badger, 153 pounds.

Ollie Pollard vs Willie Stribling 133 pounds.

Kid Wright vs Billy Frengel, 142 pounds.

Homer Gray vs Bill Donnelli, 162 pounds.

Walter West vs Vito Mangine, 135 pounds.

Ray Ritchie vs Young DiMuccio 124 pounds.

The bouts will be staged under the supervision of the Pennsylvania athletic commission. As usual, the commission will send a representative here to select the officials. The Castle bowl attaches have no voice whatsoever in selecting a referee or judges.

Four-Rounders Popular.

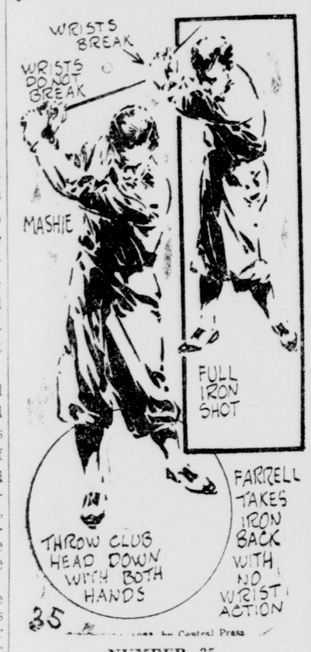
Today a force of men were engaged in removing the sides of the bowl and it will be open air by the time the fighters start for the ring. There will be no delays and promptly at 9 o'clock daylight savings time the bell will ring and the first four-round scrap will start.

The four-round game was popularized in California owing to the action furnished by the battlers. It is generally acknowledged that the pugilists crowd 10 rounds of fighting into four. It would not be surprising should half of the bouts end in knockouts, something fans are always anxious to see.

Let Your Irons Handle The Job In Hitting Ball

By ROY GROVE
Central Press Golf Writer



NUMBER 35

There is little difference between the mashie and the full midiron. Johnny Farrell and the best of professionals play them with same back swing with the exception of the break of the wrists at the top of the swing.

For this reason the beginner in golf will play his iron clubs well at the start and after learning to break his wrists goes all to pieces.

Never hit the ball with other than the club. Do not try to force the blade into the shot. The irons are made to take care of the loft and punch. Do not try to improve upon the club. Hold it firm and let both hands do the hitting.

Municipal Golfers Defeat Field Club

Municipal Golfing Team Hands 21 To 15 Defeat To Field Club Team

Trainor, Molesworth, And C. Ed. Smith Turn In Scores Of 39

The Municipal golfing team won a smashing and well earned victory yesterday afternoon over the Field Club golfing team 21 to 15 at the Municipal Course. The City Course was rather well crowded for the event. The weather was perfect. Some very fine scores were turned in, but par for the course was not approached. Par is 73. The best eighteen hole totals were turned in by George Trainer with 82, "Bill" Nunn with 82, R. W. Molesworth 82, and M. K. Gilliland 82.

It was a hole for hole match, with the Nassau system of scoring being used. Mose Mancine was the scorer. Walter "Hub" Hart was the starter.

The course was in perfect shape for the match, with Greenskeeper John Reed, doing a lot of extra work to make the course an excellent one.

No. 1 Hole Tricky

The Number 1 par 4 hole proved a "jonah" to most of the golfers, with only three of them recording a par 4, Trainor, Fleming and Southworth being the lucky boys. Six birdies were recorded during the match with Gililland getting a 4 on the Number 2 par 5 hole. Molesworth getting a 3 on the par 4 13th hole. West a 3 on the par 4 13th hole. Matthews a 4 on the Number 2, par 5 hole. Elliott a 5 on the par 6 Number 6 hole, the 616 yard one, and West a 4 on the par 5 number 2 hole.

Quite a nice sized gallery followed the first foursome at 4 o'clock, this foursome consisting of George Trainor and "Bill" Nunn of the Field Club and Hackett, Kennedy and M. K. Gilliland of the Municipal team. The gallery was rewarded by some mighty fine golf.

Delicious Dinner

Following the match Mrs. Walter Hart at the beautiful dining room of the Municipal Field House served the golfers of both teams with a delicious dinner. The meal struck the spot, especially after that 18-hole grind.

The next match will take place at the Field Club course late in July. The Field Club boys are after revenge on their own course, but they will have to step right along to take the "Muny" players. One of the surprises of the match was the playing of "Bill" Fleming with an 83, and only playing golf for two years. Peter Mele had a 94 for his second year of golf.

The match was very interesting and exciting.

The scores—

Cascade A. C. To Meet N. C. Grays

One of the interesting baseball contests of Saturday afternoon will be that staged by the Cascade A. C. and New Castle Grays. These are two of the faster amateur teams of the city. The game will be played at Cascade field at 3:30 p. m. Saturday. A record crowd of baseball enthusiasts is expected to witness the contest.

Here And There In Sports' Land

C. E. SIMMONS, Media Heights, Lancaster, yesterday took the lead in the qualifying rounds of the Central Pennsylvania men's golf championship. Simmons made 18 holes in 76. Bob Smith, Harrisburg, was second with a 78.

* * *

BOXERS who are scheduled to fight at the Castle Bowl tonight weighed in at three o'clock this afternoon. The weighing in was conducted by a deputy of the Pennsylvania Athletic commission.

* * *

* * *

Finals Reached In June Handicap For Lady Golfers

Mrs. F. W. McKee And Miss Rachel Wallace Eliminate Their Competition

June handicap tournament competition for the lady golfers of the New Castle Field club has reached the finals. The competition has been keen and interesting and Mrs F. W. McKee and Miss Rachel Wallace were the successful participants in the competition to reach the finals.

They will meet in the final competition in the near future, to determine the winner of the contest, in which there has been an unusual amount of interest this year.

In the final, these ladies will meet in 36-hole match play with a seven-eighth handicap. The result of the competition is awaited with interest not only among the lady golfers of the Field club but the entire membership.

Crowd At Beach Water Carnival

Expert Swimmers, Divers Go Through Antics For Lakewood Throng

Thrilling the host of spectators that stood nearby, expert swimmers and divers of the district under the direction of Jack Hulme performed in a water carnival event at Lakewood beach last night. Among those who saw the exhibition were members of the First Christian church, holding their annual picnic at the time.

The carnival consisted of dives, canoe-tipping, a life-saving exhibition and special features. The divers who participated were Dorothy Stunkard, James Sotus, Robert Minsky, "Hank" Minsky, Mr. Hemple, Mr. Rung and Mr. Nestle.

A variety of dives were performed for the crowd, including the swan, back, back-jack, front-jack and a number of specialties. Those participating in the canie-tipping were Murphy and Hemple, the winners in one, and Gerlock and Gibson, winners in the other.

The life-saving exhibition, probably the most difficult of any of the performances, was executed by Dorothy Stunkard and Jack Hulme. Their demonstrations were of an excellent character and proved very instructive.

Concluding the stunts was a special feature by Jack Hulme, a novelty swimming act.

CANZONERI WINS

(International News Service)

NEW HAVEN, Conn., June 26.—Tony Canzoneri, who holds the lightweight and junior welterweight titles, easily defeated Herman Perlick, of Kalamazoo, Mich., in a ten-round non-title bout here last night. Perlick captured only one round.

Richard Henry Lee and Francis Lightfoot Lee of Virginia were the only brothers who signed the Declaration of Independence.

Four County Games Saturday

Lawrence County League Enters Last Week Of Play On Wednesday

On Wednesday night the Lawrence County league will enter the last week of the first half schedule with three contests carded. On Saturday afternoon the final set of ten games played this week will be enacted.

Tomorrow afternoon's games will bring together:

Scarazzo at Hillsville
Brent at West Pittsburg
Shenango Pottery at Bessemer
North Highland at Universal Sanitary

The first half comes to a close on Thursday, July 2. The second half race starts on July 4. The first half race to date has proven one of the closest in a number of years. The winner is still undecided. If the second half proves as close and as fast as the first half, what a race their should be for the second half title of Lawrence County.

According to reports from the different aggregations the managers are planning to strengthen their lineups in the way of changes and perhaps in players.

Ball Yard Banter

M. H. (Mike) Sexton, president of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues, is enjoying his twenty-fifth season this year as leader of the "little fellows." But those two decades and a half do not cover Sexton's full period of service to baseball. He has served the game in various capacities for nearly 40 years!

* * *

* * *

He served the Rock Island club as president until 1899. Two years later he assumed the chairmanship of the board of arbitration of the Minor Leagues association. These were troubled times in baseball, with the major leagues at war and strong leaders were needed by the minors to protect their interests. Sexton filled the bill.

* * *

Busy as he was, Sexton was not too busy to help the infant Three-I league in 1901 and became that organization's first president.

* * *

Sexton served the Three-I until 1905. For the years of 1902 and 1903 he also assumed the added burden of the presidency of the Western league. Sexton also served as head of the Three-I for the season of 1910.

* * *

Sexton became president of the Mississippi Valley league in 1922, but resigned two years later to devote full time to the National Association.

* * *

The minor league head is given much credit for the lack of friction and misunderstanding between minor circuits, a condition not always in existence before he became so prominently identified with that branch of baseball. It's been many years of hard work, but Sexton has enjoyed it. He's one of those men who like the game so they devote their lives to it.

West Pittsburg Still Holds Lead

West Pittsburg And Universal Sanitary Keep Pace With Victory

West Pittsburg today still holds a one game advantage over the Universals Sanitary nine in the Lawrence County League as a result of its triumph over Brent last night.

The Universals also continued its steady pace by winning from Bessemer 7-2 after losing two straights to the Shenango Pottery aggregation. The Universals play three more contests before the first half closes while West Pittsburg is scheduled for two more contests.

The Universals have to play the Scarazzos, North Highland and Hillsville. If the Universals capture all three games and West Pittsburg wins its two games then there will be a deadlock for the first half title. West Pittsburg meets Brent and Wampum before it finishes its first half schedule.

Thursday's Results

West Pittsburg 15—Brent 4
Universal Sanitary 7—Bessemer 2

Games Saturday

LOOK FOR STURGEON

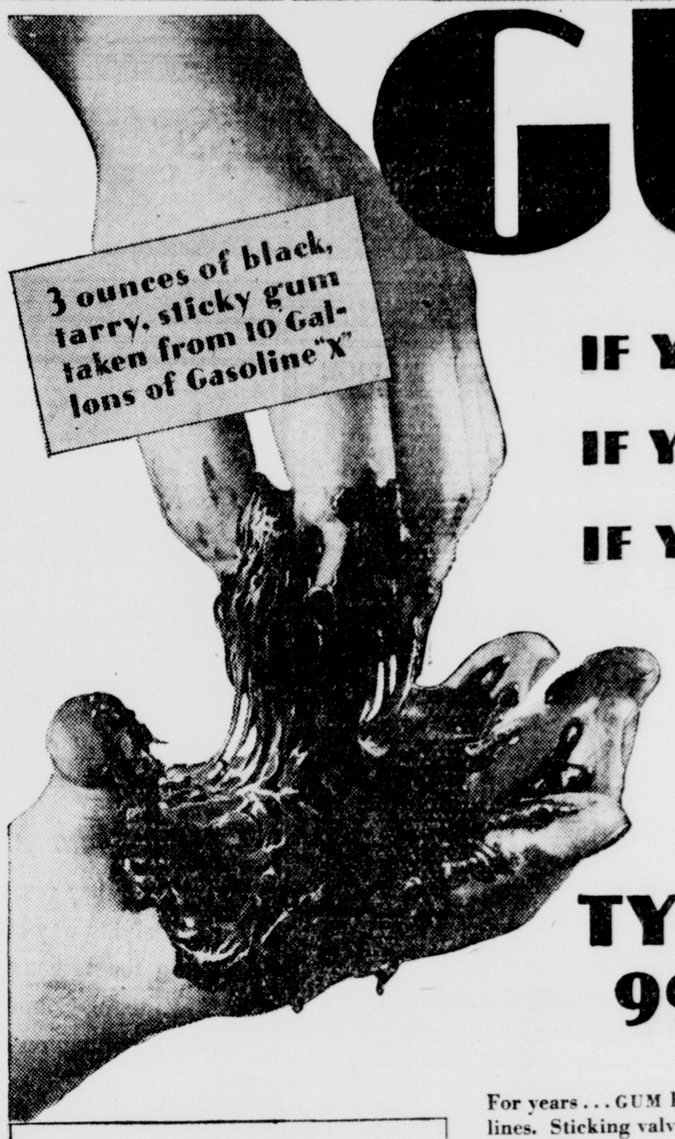
(International News Service)

OLD SAYBROOK, Conn.—Shad Fishermen at the mouth of the Connecticut river have been watching, this spring, for a possible return of sturgeon to the stream. Twenty years ago the fish, running as large as 600 pounds, and requiring efforts of a dozen men to land them were often picked up by the shad boat crews but the fish suddenly disappeared. Shad have been running but sparsely this spring.

What they mean is the American standard of flivving.



GUM

IF YOU COULD FEEL IT
IF YOU COULD SMELL IT
IF YOU COULD SEE IT

You'd change to TYDOL Gasolines 99 28/100% Gum-Free

Why TYDOL Gasolines are 99 28/100% Gum-Free

1. SELECTED CRUDES . . . Crudes selected for their cleanliness are "multi-fractionated" by super-refining equipment costing millions. Each crude gets the exact degree of refining it requires.

2. GUM-FREE BLENDING . . . Tide Water's exclusive, secret blend of gum-free gasolines creates the super-power, high-test, anti-knock qualities of Hi-test TYDOL.

3. "GUM-TAPPED" . . . In modern bubble towers of the most advanced type, Hi-test TYDOL is "gum-tapped." The gum-carrying gasoline is drawn off in huge pipes and redistilled.

For years . . . GUM has been tampering with carburetors. Clogging feed lines. Sticking valves. Binding carbon. Causing expensive repair bills.

Today, motors are high-speed, high-compression, super-sensitive . . . GUM is a greater menace than ever before. And Tide Water has taken the lead by recognizing these conditions. By spending millions of dollars for new equipment. By giving you gasolines free from sticky, injurious gum.

Why run into avoidable repairs? Why gamble with gum-bearing gasolines? When TYDOL Gasolines cost no more . . . and are actually and provably 99 28/100% gum-free. Change to TYDOL today . . . High-test. Anti-knock. Super-power . . . and gum-free.

GEAUGA LAKE, O., June 26.—The most amazing thing about Willie Stribling, the young man who is being conditioned at this amusement park for his 45-minute argument Herr Moxie Schmeling, in Cleveland, July 3, is his record.

Everything else pertaining to the hope of the Striblings is decidedly normal. But that record is a real museum piece, viewed from any angle. It is a gargantuan list of human beings, dotted with names picturesque and droll. Such intriguing tags as Rough House, California Jack, Chief, Pancho, Penny, Soldier Sailor, Marine, Italian Jack, Tiny and Big Sid pop up all over it.

There's also an air of mystery about it, too. For instance, in the list of Stribling victims for 1921 the name of Fearless Ferns appears twice. What's become of Fearless? With a name like that, why isn't HE getting ready for Moxie instead of Will? And, we note that Strib twice whipped Happy Harry Howard in 1923. How could Harry be happy about that?

* * *

The real feature of Strib's record however, is its enormous proportions. In 10 years of milling W. L. has battled 259 times. And this doesn't take in the hundreds of bouts he had a kid on the stage. Will began using his fists in public, as part of his parents' vaudeville act, almost from the time he first began to toddle.

As a professional fighter Will has scrapped 1,806 rounds. In minutes that totals 5,409. But as 117 of his bouts ended in knockouts, you have to figure that 117 of these rounds were not completed. Counting the final rounds of each of his knockout victories as being only one minute and a half long on an average, the total is cut to 5,233 minutes of mauling.

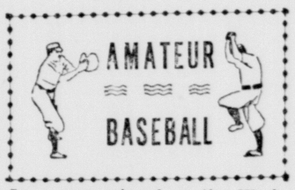
* * *

If Stribling's time in the ring were figured in one continuous stretch it would total up as three days 15 hours and 13 minutes of constant battle.

Or, to make it exact, one figured a minute's rest between each round, Strib's fight career is actually the same as a bout lasting four days 21 hours and 19 minutes.

Figuring his average opponent to have been about five feet ten inches in height, Strib's kayo victims, standing on each other's heads would tower 682 feet six inches high—a human skyscraper taller than a 68-story office building.

While these figures may be appalling to the naked eye, one must not lose sight of the fact that many—but not all—of the Stribling victims were of the palooka variety. Which explains why Herr Schmeling, who also has studied this record, is not precisely horror-stricken with the prospect of exchanging unpleasantries with Stribling on the night of July 3.



In a game played on the Washington field on Thursday night the Snot Rags lost to the James Nine 20-15 in a fast game. G. Muse with four hits and Patterson and Keefer with three hits apiece featured for the losers while Waber, Thornton and Dunlap were the best for the winners.

Large Crowd At Zelienople Event

Donation Day Brings Out Several Thousand On Thursday Afternoon

ELLWOOD CITY, June 26. — Between two and three thousand people were present at the annual Donation Day at the Orphan's Home of Zelienople Thursday. There was a large attendance from the local and Mt. Hope Trinity Lutheran church. The affair was a big success.

The devotional services were in charge of Rev. C. W. White, who is in charge at the home. The address of the day was given by Rev. Bernhard Setterly of Ambridge. The speaker gave a history of the home and the work it has done. It has not only aided the physically and mentally ill, but it also aided in spiritual welfare work.

After the benediction an offering was taken and the guests were given an opportunity to inspect the various buildings. At present there are 140 children in the home.

Lunch was served all day in the auditorium of the school. There was some special music on the occasion by the band and outside talent.

Terrific Wind And Rain Storm

Much Damage Is Done By Storm In Ellwood City During Night

ELLWOOD CITY, June 26.—Ellwood City had its first taste of a real storm last night as windows were broken, trees blown down, and property generally damaged. Trees were uprooted or broken at the trunk. It is rumored that one of the broken trees fell on a home in Burnstown.

Evidentally there was more wind than rain for the subway was not flooded this morning as was the general opinion.

Enjoy Picnic At New Wilmington

ELLWOOD CITY, June 26.—The Ladies Missionary society and the congregation of the Camp Run U. P. church held a picnic at the home of their pastor, Rev. McFarland at New Wilmington, Thursday with about 125 present on the occasion.

The society felt greatly honored by having present Mrs. Alice Burry of Camp Run, who is a charter member of the Camp Run Missionary society, and a returned missionary, Miss Esther Moyer of Lillyville Pa.

Mrs. Barry gave a short history of the society in its beginning. It was organized with a membership of 12 in 1890. Miss Moyer held the attention of the crowd for a short time, speaking on how the missionary societies are carried on in India.

The remainder of the afternoon was enjoyed with games and contests and a general social period. The weather had proved very satisfactory for the affair and those present were very well pleased.

KNIT-A-BIT CLUB

ELLWOOD CITY, June 26.—Mrs. John Cobler and Mrs. Harry Parthemore were associate hostesses to the members of the Knit-a-Bit club on Thursday all day at the former's home in Rockdale. The home was lovely in its clever appointments of summer flowers.

A delicious breakfast was served by the hostesses to inaugurate the events of the day, covers being laid for 12. The remainder of the day was spent in sewing for the hospital.

Guests on this occasion were Mrs. A. M. Staley of Tampa, Fla.; Mrs. George Cobler and daughter Betty of Conneaut Lake, Mrs. James Barton and Mrs. Stanley Kothe of Butler.

W. A. C. MEET

Attend Rochester Kiwanis Meeting

ELLWOOD CITY, June 26.—Rev. Hugh D. Maxwell and Lieutenant Governor, Dr. H. E. Helling of this city were special guests at the Kiwanis meeting at Rochester, Thursday evening.

Rev. Maxwell was the principal speaker on the occasion and his subject was "The Definition of a Man." The Speaker stressed points in his address, man is a victim; man is a fighter; man is a money maker; man is a thinker; and man is a servant. The speaker cleverly revealed that man is useless until he develops into that fifth part.

Dr. Helling also addressed the assemblage. The guests were served a splendid dinner given by the losing team of an attendance contest.

Wedding Occurs At Parsonage Of Baptist Church

ELLWOOD CITY, June 26.—Carolyn Dowswell daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Dowswell of First avenue of this city and Roy Porter, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Porter, Sr., also of this city were united in marriage at 10 o'clock Thursday morning at the parsonage of the First Baptist church with Rev. Bert Edw. Williams, pastor of the church officiating.

The bride was lovely in her blue chiffon dress and white laced picture hat and accessories to match. She wore a corsage of lilies of the valley and roses.

The young couple were attended by Miss Edna Horton of this city and John Zank of New Castle. The maid of honor wore a flowered chiffon dress with accessories to match. She carried a bouquet of mixed sweetpeas.

The bride is a graduate of Ellwood City High school with the class of 1930. Mr. Porter is employed in the National Tube company.

Mr. and Mrs. Porter will make their home with the bride's parents on First avenue.

Woman Arrested In Poison Case

OFFICIALS ARE DEEP IN PROBE

(International News Service)

GREENFIELD, Ind., June 26.—Mrs. Carrie Barett Simmons, whose two daughters were killed by eating poisoned sandwiches at a family picnic Sunday, today was in custody of county officials renewing their investigation with vigor after the burial of the two girls.

The mother was to be held pending a grand jury investigation after authorities said they found that no outsider had access to the sandwiches after Mrs. Simmons made them.

Thirteen of the 18 sandwiches contained strychnine-filled capsules and only the fact that one of the capsules fell out as a guest started eating prevented more being sickened.

Prosecutor Ben M. Seifres was trying to ascertain if Mrs. Simmons had carefully marked the poisoned sandwiches. He learned that some of the sandwiches were fastened with one toothpick and others with two.

TERRIFIC WIND STORM HERE IN EARLY MORNING

stated this morning, and by evening, all lines are expected to be in operation again.

Mr. Bingham stated that it was the worst storm damage that the company has experienced locally in many years, but they are working heroically today to place all lines back in service again by nightfall.

Transformer Struck

Damage aggregating several thousands dollars resulted to Pennsylvania Power company electric lines in Lawrence county when a severe electrical, wind and rain storm hit the vicinity. Service to all affected points will have been reestablished before evening company executives stated this morning.

Perhaps the most costly damage was done near the Burton Explosive, Inc., plant, Covert's station. Lightning struck the substation and burned out a transformer which will be replaced today.

As a result of the ruination of the transformer service was cut off along the Youngstown and Mr. Jackson roads but was reestablished this afternoon.

Trees fell on lines along the Plaingrove, Harlansburg and East Brook roads and only partial service was possible this morning. Service along the Ellwood City-New Castle road was restored when a tree was removed from a line.

It was reported also that a tree had blown over on a line at King avenue and another at Chewton and a fuse had blown out at Koppel. A force of men were started to work as soon as the havoc commenced.

According to reports received at the Line department of the company about 60 cases of trouble were reported but in the city proper not much trouble was caused by the storm, it was stated.

No One Injured

As far as could be learned this morning, no person was killed or injured during the storm, the fact that it struck during the early hours of the morning when there were few people on the streets or travelling on the roads, probably accounting for the fact that there was no loss of life.

The wind was worse than during the storm last Saturday night, and many more trees were uprooted by the force of the blast, which continued for three quarters of an hour. Many fruit trees had a great part of the crop shaken off the limbs, while in other instances, the heavily laden trees were blown over completely.

William Gustafson, foreman of the press room at The News, who resides on the Pulaski road, stated that a cherry tree on his property, had about half the crop on the tree blown off by the wind.

Gardens were badly damaged, and wheat and rye fields in the rural districts were flattened to the ground.

Trees in many parts of the city, particularly in the North Hill, were mowed down, necessitating the street department to send out trucks to clear the streets this morning.

The State Highway Department announced that no outstanding destruction was found in state highways in Lawrence and Mercer counties, with the exception of several trees blown near the roads.

Authorities here believe the storm of this morning was responsible for more destruction to trees than the one last Saturday afternoon when a falling tree fatally injured a motorist on North Jefferson street. The storm of Saturday was apparently confined to a certain area whereas the disturbances this morning destroyed trees in widely separate regions.

While the storm was at its height central and fourth ward firemen made a hurry call to 920 Marshall avenue at 3:40 a. m. following receipt of a telephone call that lightning had fired a frame home at that address. Firemen found members of the J. E. Bixler family had been aroused by the blaze that started in the basement and burned to the top of the basement wall. Bixler used a garden hose to end the flames. When the apparatus arrived smoke was still filling the home. Damage was estimated at $10.

Many reports of blown down trees were made this morning to Street Commissioner Moore whose men were sent to clear the streets. Four trees were down on Croton avenue, two of them directly across the street department headquarters.

Two maples were down at Pearson street, a short distance from East Washington street.

Two giant oaks were down on Rural avenue.

Two maples were down on East Wallace avenue.

Other reports from residents indicated the storm blew down trees at South Mill and Division, South Mill and Home, South Jefferson street, Reis, Whippo. More reports of destruction were being received throughout the morning.

W. H. Weinschenk reports that the storm did not do a great deal of damage at his greenhouses in South New Castle, although a few trees about the place were blown down and some of the cold frame sashes broken.

A few panes of glass in the roof of the greenhouse were also broken, but the damage was very slight, considering the severity of the storm.

Mr. Weinschenk reports that there was considerable damage done to the crops in the vicinity and the wind and rain beat down the stalks that were ripened and the grain fields this morning were lying flat.

During the course of the storm early this morning, lightning struck a chimney on the Greer building, North Mercer street, hurling bricks from the corner and knocking several holes in the roof.

The bolt seemed to follow the electric system of the building and blew out the fuses in the main switch box, shutting off the light and power in the building until it could be repaired this morning.

During the windstorm, a portion of the railing surrounding the cupolo on the court house, was blown off and several slates were blown from the roof. Some small branches were blown from trees on the court house lawn, but no serious damage was done.

Considerable damage was done to the wheat fields by the storm last night, according to Assistant County Superintendent of Schools, C. F. Ball. Mr. Ball has a small field of wheat at Mt. Jackson that was particularly luxurient and was standing up nicely until last night. This morning it was so badly twisted that it will have to be cut with a mower. Other fields were similarly damaged.

Like in other sections, trees in the Rural avenue hill district were uprooted by this morning's heavy gale. One blocked the roadway until workmen removed the debris. Two trees fell near each other on North Croton, one damaging a porch roof on a home. At Mrs. J. P. Allen's, Pearson street, another was blown over by the wind.

Three apple trees were taken out by the roots on the property of Elmer E. Hamaker, English avenue, another tree, an oak blown down by the storm, nearly hit the home.

One of the several large trees blown down by the storm which swept over the New Castle Fair Grounds, is a tree loaded heavily with cherries. It is beside the highway there and Pa Newe couldn't resist the temptation to stop and have a cherry dinner with the robbins.

Another freak thing done by last night's heavy storm was the crippling of the electric engine which runs the electric door on a local bakery. This morning the door was shut and absolutely would not open. It was necessary to cut through the top of the door in order that local stores could receive their morning bread.

Awnings in front of the business places of several South Side merchants were damaged completely. Tony George of 814 South Mill St., reported this morning that several windows in his home were broken when the storm developed. On the corner of South Mill and East Home street a big tree came down.

James DiMuccio of 514 South Jefferson street reported that two windows in his store were broken. In several homes water entered the cellar and caused some damage.

Down the Seventh Ward there were numerous trees torn down. On Orchard street three huge trees came down. The trees blocked the entire road. They had been located near the sidewalks and lifted the sidewalks out of the ground.

APPROVE BOND

Victor Olsen Contracting company today presented a bond to the city for the proposed paving of Meyer avenue. The contract and bond were ordered approved by the proper officials.
